SAY UNDUE FAVOR RULES RAIL RATES

That discrimination is being practiced by the Southern Pacific and other railroads of the state against Oakland and in favor of San Francisco in connection with freight rates to interior points, was argued before the State Railroad Commission today by Attorney H. H. Sanborn, special counsel for the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Arbitrary and unreasonable tariffs and a plain case of favoring San Francisco and hurting Oakland was made out by Sanborn, who, drawing a parallel between rates down the peninsula and on the Oakland-Niles-San Jose line, showed that Oakland was forced to pay a price not demanded of her sister city.

"In this case instituted by the commission," began Sanborn, "the City of Oakland intervened and has alleged that existing class rates are unduly preferential and discriminatory in favor of San Francisco, and further asks that these rates be readjusted and that a lower scale from Oakland than from San Francisco be established. The case is of widespread importance to all the citizens of Oakland and, in fact, the entire east side of the bay.

DEPENDS ON RATES.

"The industrial and commercial growth of that section is to a great extent dependent on the establishment of reasonable, non-discriminatory and non-preferential transportation rates between the cities on the east side of the bay and interior California points. As has been testified here, the burden of taxation falls heaviest upon the residential property owner because of the fact that industrial and business property has not been developed to its full extent. We claim, and we believe we have proved, that this condition has been brought about by the arbitrary and unwarranted action of the carriers in depriving the City of Oakland and other cities on the east side of the bay of that natural advantage which rightfully belongs to them, and that failure of carriers to recognize these natural advantages and to properly reflect such advantages in their freight rates has caused irreparable injury to be done the cities on the east side of the bay, and will continue to do so just as long as carriers are permitted to adjust their rates without regard to the more advantageous location of those cities.

DISREGARD ADVANTAGES.

"We have shown that industries desire to locate on the east side of the bay, provided the natural advantages of that side are recognized and a proper adjustment of rates established, and these firms would not otherwise locate in this section of the state at all. As has been testified here by Mr. King, it is not the desire of Oakland to build itself up at the expense of San Francisco or another community, but we do assert that the carriers have no right, either legal or equitable, to say to the people of Oakland that their natural advantages will be disregarded simply because the City of San Francisco desires it be so.

"The carrier is entitled to a reasonable return for its services, and no commission or community should attempt to deprive it of that. The City of Oakland is willing to accept all the burdens that should be properly cast upon it in the adjustment of freight rates, but it is not willing and desires to protest as earnestly as it possibly can against assuming the burdens that rightfully belong to another community.

NOT PART OF DUTY.

"It is not a part of the duty of a carrier to attempt to say that this or that territory should be served by San Francisco or Oakland, Sacramento, Stockton or any other community. Each is entitled to whatever advantages reasonable freight rates will give it, and no more. The City of Oakland has expended large sums of money in reclamation of its tide lands and the improvement of its water front facilities. Likewise, the federal government has appropriated and expended considerable money for this purpose. Wharves have been constructed to encourage and foster shipping to and from Oakland. These expenditures will be rendered futile unless some use is made of these facilities. Oakland has been greatly injured by the adjustment of freight rates which deprives that city of its natural advantages and links its fortunes with its more powerful neighbor.

ANSWERS MANN PLEA.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the Interstate Commerce commissioner has declared that Oakland is entitled to terminal rates because of water competition, Mr. Seth Mann has attempted to show that as a matter of fact Oakland should pay an additional charge measured by the cost of hauling freight from the ship's side in San Francisco by barge or other craft to Oakland when a steamer does not have enough freight to go to Oakland direct. Mr. Mann is very anxious that the City of Oakland be handicapped by this additional charge and be deprived of its terminal rates.

"It has been contended that if Oakland is given the benefit of a lower rate than San Francisco it will adversely affect the commercial interests of that city. We do not believe that the mere fact that if the geographical location of Oakland is recognized in the shape of lower freight rates than San Francisco that it will materially affect the property of that community. Ever since the railroad published transcontinental tariffs, Sacramento, Marysville and Stockton have been given terminal rates, and were, therefore, up to recently, in a position to distribute freight in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys at lower freight rates than San Francisco.

POLICE MORALITY SQUAD IS STOPPED

of my men are in plain clothes on the street and are approached by a woman to commit an offense, and if she actually receives money from one of them, they cannot charge her with being a vagrant, and if they arrest her, they are liable to suit for damages, such as this suit by Mrs. Rosa Fiori.

"We have co-operated with Mrs. Artieda to the limit. But this decision which apparently meets with her approval, makes a big difference. I shall direct my men to be particularly circumspect how and when they arrest women in future. They will have to be assured that a warrant has been issued, or that the crime has in fact been committed, and they must have personal knowledge of this fact. I cannot ask the men of my department to obtain this knowledge at the expense of their own decency."

MRS. ARTIEDA REPLIES.

Mrs. Helen Artieda, secretary of the Public Welfare League, retorts that she did sympathize with Mrs. Fiori, but that her object in watching the case was to discover why the police procedure had been "irregular."

"A great many citizens of Oakland do not trust the police department," announced Mrs. Artieda today. She added that she was glad to shed light on the situation.

During the trial, according to the chief of police, Mrs. Artieda sat with the Italian woman, who has since been awarded $500 damages from the department by the superior court, and who responded to the charges of the police by accusations that some of the witnesses had tried "to graft on" her.

Mrs. Artieda states that she "certainly does sympathize with any ignorant woman treated in the way Mrs. Fiori was," and that she failed to see why the matter of her vagrancy was treated in a way out of the usual routine. "It was because of the proceedings by which she was arrested and detained that I attended her trial. I got acquainted with her after her arrest," she added.

"ALL IRREGULAR."

"The whole thing was irregular. Two policemen came at 11 o'clock at night to the lodging house where this woman lived and took her to the detention room of the city prison. No charge was placed against her either that night or the next morning, and if it had not been that an intelligent woman was in charge of her, the matter might not have been attended to as soon as it was.

"While my whole object in attending the trial was to get the facts of both sides, I attended without prejudice. Incidentally trying to be a comfort to a friendless woman—and I was glad to be among the few women in the courtroom.

DENIED ROUTINE.

"Though, according to our ideas, Mrs. Fiori was immoral, she was not so in the flagrant way she might have been. She lived all alone in this lodging house. She had no friends, and I don't know why the matter of her vagrancy should not have had the usual consideration; why she could not have been brought for an investigation, warned and allowed to return to her work.

"The safety of the police department depends on its observing the regular routine in handling people," concluded Mrs. Artieda.

The Fiori case, which has been one of the sensational ones of the past week, concluded with the judgment of the superior court awarding her $500 damages from members of the Oakland police department. The Italian woman had sued for $300,000 after her arrest and made the explanation of her way of living to the special immigration officer, Howard Ebey, that she had become a woman of the streets in order to obtain food for her starving children.

Ebey testified at the trial that he had assisted in deporting Mrs. Fiori from Montana several years ago, before she went to Portland.

Of her general treatment at the hands of the Oakland police, Mrs. Helen Artieda concluded by the summary, "It was cruelty in a way. They made a mistake."

BARROWS AGAINST PHILIPPINE POLICY

"Mr. Taft has every right to feel pain and chagrin over the attitude of President Wilson's administration toward the Philippine service which he established and which was the object of his constant solicitude during the years of his official life as Secretary of War and President of the United States.

The most important act passed by the Philippine Commission within a few days after it began its life as the legislative body for the Philippines, in September, 1900, was the Philippine civil service bill personally drafted by Mr. Taft himself, who had been for many years a recognized advocate and supporter of civil service reform in the United States.

RESULTS SPELL SUCCESS.

"Judged by results, this was the most successful civil service system ever inaugurated under the American flag.

"This civil service system, embracing, as it eventually did, several thousand Americans and an even greater number of Filipinos, not only made possible the success of the Philippine government from [illegible] was a most important asset to the government of the United States. During this period Washington repeatedly drew upon the trained staff of public servants in the Philippines for duties of delicacy and importance in connection with American interests outside of the Philippines.

The Philippines trained and gave to the United States a group of men of which the country may well be proud.

NOTABLE PRODUCTS.

"It includes such gifted men as W. Morgan Shuster, who on the recommendation of President Taft was appointed treasurer-general and financial adviser of Persia; such eminent health authorities as Dr. Richard P. Strong, who has recently performed an international service in redeeming Servia from typhus, Dr. Musgrave, recognized specialist in the field of tropical diseases, and Dr. Heiser, probably the most eminent sanitation officer in the world today. The man who has just completed a great system of irrigation and reclamation works in Porto Rico, J. W. Beardsley, was for years at the head of the department of public works in the Philippines and established an enviable reputation.

ASSET TO GOVERNMENT.

"Now the existence of such a staff, trained, loyal and upright, was an asset, I repeat, of immense value to the American government. There is a fair probability that the government of the United States will have to assume greater responsibilities than heretofore in the tropical countries lying immediately to the south of us—in Mexico, Central America, Hayti, Santo Domingo, Venezuela and Colombia. America can perform an immense service for the sanitation, the financial restoration, the education and the general well-being of these peoples with men of the proper spirit and with the proper training for their tasks.

"In deliberately disbanding, discouraging, belittling and scattering this staff of American civil servants in the Philippine the present administration has done harm not merely to Philippine government but to the service of the United States for years to come. The Filipinization of the Philippine service proclaimed by Secretary Garrison and by Governor-General Harrison is not an innovation. It has always been from the beginning of the establishment of the civil service there the purpose of the government to train and introduce into the Philippine service Filipinos.

The experiment which Governor-General Harrison has made of removing trained American heads of bureaus and replacing them by Filipinos without administrative experience is a hazardous one, and, while its results cannot yet be fully judged, they will in the end, in my opinion, be disappointing.

CENTRALIZED GOVERNMENT.

"Following Governor-General Harrison's arrival in the Philippines, October 6, 1913, the following bureau chiefs were either summarily dismissed or resigned or transferred under circumstances that were more or less sensational and alarming: The executive secretary and the assistant executive secretary; the heads of the bureau of customs, of the bureau of printing, internal revenue, postoffice, agriculture, public health and quarantine service, including the chief medical officer of the Philippines general hospital, navigation, audits, treasury, prisons. This list represents only heads of bureaus and has not reference to the corps of trained and liable men who were shaken out of insubordinate positions. Further than this, the Philippine commission was completely reorganized by President Wilson. The resignation of every American member was accepted, and of all the Filipino members except one, so that an entirely new group of men, untrained, and, as far as Americans were concerned, without any experience whatever in Philippine affairs, were appointed to the most responsible tasks in the government of the islands.

GENERAL HARRISON 'FAILS.'

"Governor-General Harrison's administration in the Philippines, in my opinion, has failed. His early actions taken under the influence of Filipino politicians not only discredited him, but they have not made it possible for him to retain a permanent hold upon the Filipinos themselves. There came a time when Mr. Harrison appreciated his mistakes, and in recent months he has obviously attempted to free himself from the wrong kind of Filipino influence and repair the damage that he has done. This will lose him the support of certain Filipino politicians who have benefited by the control they have exercised over his actions, but will not restore the prestige that is indispensable to a man in his position.

DISINTEGRATION APPARENT.

"This disintegration of his government is already apparent. The man who had commanded most respect among the commissioners appointed by President Wilson was Clinton L. Riggs. The papers a few days ago announced Mr. Riggs' resignation with Mr. Riggs' own statement that he 'found it impossible to submit his voice and actions to the apparent wishes of the administration as expressed by the governor-general.' Mr. Denison, the secretary of the interior, has recently returned to this country on leave.

"So that the only two Americans at the present time in the Philippine commission, which is the upper house of the Philippine legislature, are Governor-General Harrison and his colleague, Vice-Governor Henderson Martin of Kansas. These two men alone cannot possibly give the steadying influence to the Philippine government which the situation demands.

"Unless Philippine expectations of independence, which have been greatly aroused by Mr. Wilson and Governor-General Harrison, are satisfied by early action of Congress, the general weakening of government in the Philippines is likely to be productive of disorders that will seriously affect the safety of the islands."

SUBMARINES OF GERMANY SCORE AGAIN

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—Repulse of a [illegible] attack by the troops of General von Buttner is reported to German army headquarters in today's official statement.

ATHENS, Dec. 2.—Representatives of Austria and Germany have informed the Greek government, according to the Neon Asty, that if the demands of the quadruple entente are granted the central empires "will cease to consider Greek Macedonia as friendly territory."

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—Teutonic forces, pressing their campaign against Montenegro have occupied the towns of Plevlje and Jabuka in northeastern Montenegro, near the Serbian border, German army headquarters announced today.

LONDON, Dec. 2, 10:15 a. m.—Two more British steamers, the Colenso and the Orange Prince, have been sunk presumably by German submarines.

Reports received by the board of trade during November tell of the sinking of fifty-three British steamers of a total net tonnage of 61,072, with the loss of 646 lives. In the same period the loss was reported of thirty-five British sailing vessels of 4977 net tonnage with six lives. So far as the figures show only twenty of the steamers were sunk by German warships and ten by mines, but 495 of the lives lost were on steamers sunk by German warships.

These figures do not record the total casualties for November, but merely the reports received, some of which relate to previous months.

Estimates Disagree as to British Loss

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The grand total of British military and naval losses, according to a written reply by Premier Asquith to a question propounded in the House of Commons, has reached 510,230.

A written statement sent to the House of Commons by Premier Asquith on October 29, gave the total British casualties as 493,294 from the beginning of the war to October 9. The total casualties for October as computed from the war office lists were 74,297, while those for November were 46,416, which would indicate a grand total of approximately 600,000. There has been no explanation as yet of this apparent discrepancy.

Bulgars Have Not Occupied Monastir

PARIS, Dec. 2.—Telegraphing from Athens under date of December 1, the correspondent of the Havas News Agency says:

"The Bulgarians have not yet occupied Monastir. The Serbian army has evacuated the city, leaving only a few officers and a small detachment of troops to preserve order. It is supposed the Bulgarians are awaiting for reinforcements before entering the city.

"The Serbian commandant at Monastir posted notices throughout the town advising all inhabitants who feared the treatment they might receive at the hands of the Bulgars to leave the place, and that Serbian troops would be engaged in protecting their flight towards the Greek frontier. Serbian refugees who continue to arrive at the Greek border are suffering frightfully from cold, the weather registering ten degrees Fahrenheit above zero.

ITALIANS LAND AT AVLONA.

PARIS, Dec. 2.—Detachments of Italian troops were landed at Avlona, Albania, on Tuesday, according to information from a reliable source in Athens, a dispatch to the Temps from the Greek capital today says.

The Newest Player Pianos Are Electrically Operated

Inventive genius has solved the problem of the motor-driven Player Piano. Now the Piano Playing device is to the pianist what the Victrola is to the singer—an instrument which reproduces with perfect fidelity every shading, every graduation of tempo, of tone and of touch. Now your favorite compositions may be heard in your own home, flawlessly, faultlessly rendered by an instrument electrically controlled which while more perfect than any which has heretofore been shown, costs no more than any high-class player of the old type.

The new Electric Player Pianos are really four Pianos in one. They may be played manually as an ordinary piano. They may be played with foot pedals as the usual player piano. They may be electrically pedaled and manually controlled, or they may be used as an Electric Automatic Reproducing Piano.

Our Player Piano Department shows the very latest developments, the newest in player construction, and is confined to the products of no one particular maker. Therefore your opportunity for intelligent comparisons is best here.

There are but three types of Accenting Player Pianos. All may be seen on our floors.

BUSINESS IS IMPROVING, U. S. LEARNS

Federal Reserve Agents Find Conditions Are Favorable

San Francisco District Profits by Lumber Demand

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Reports of business conditions throughout the country from Federal reserve agents are, in the main, favorable and show improvement for November, according to information from these sources published today by the reserve board.

Boston, one of the least optimistic of the twelve reserve district cities, says that business there has improved "but slightly, if at all," but that the economies of the past months are not now being so rigidly observed and that the public generally is spending money more freely than in the past, due, presumably, among other things, to the fact that labor is more generally employed.

Activity and improvement in trade and industry continued during the month, New York reports. Retail and department stores have found business very much better with an increasing demand for higher-grade goods. Steel orders are reported as very heavy, notwithstanding steadily advancing prices.

BETTER LABOR CONDITIONS.

Philadelphia says that conditions throughout that district are gradually becoming better and substantial improvement is reported in nearly all lines, with mills and factories of all kinds working at nearer normal activity than for some time, with voluntary wage increases by some concerns and reduced working hours and larger payrolls than ever before.

A tremendous demand for steel products and unprecedented activity in the steel and allied businesses continue through the Cleveland district, with prices the highest since 1908. Output from automobile and rubber manufacturers is at capacity, and there is a scarcity of labor.

Further development of the "very satisfactory general conditions heretofore reported" features the Richmond district. This is said to be strongly in evidence, and general business is described as in excellent position both immediately and prospectively.

Atlanta reports conditions generally there as representing more of a continuation of the favorable situation and outlook for the previous month than as possessed of new features.

HEAVY STEEL TRADE.

Business development in the Chicago district is reported as favorable and confirms former reports of general recovery with accumulated orders in future delivery in steel equipment, cars and heavy structural forms exceeding all previous experience. Confidence in the future is held to be indicated by the large expectations being undertaken to enlarge output.

St. Louis says there is indication of a considerable increase of business activity in that part of the district, with business men optimistic as to the future and generally confident. The improvement is noted in almost all lines, and the manifest improvement in the last two months is said to have gone far toward wiping out the losses of the early months of the year.

INCREASED BANK DEPOSITS.

Industrial conditions are reported good in the Minneapolis district, with labor fully employed. Bank deposits have increased with increases in loans and discounts over September.

Although farmers in the Kansas City district are reported as showing a decided inclination to hold wheat for higher prices, a considerable amount is now moving to the markets. With cold weather approaching, improvement is looked for in commercial, industrial and business conditions, and the district is said to be facing the next few months with optimistic complacency.

Reports from Texas, southern Oklahoma, northern Louisiana, southern New Mexico and southeastern Arizona are said to show a gratifying recovery from conditions existing at this period a year ago.

San Francisco is hoping for reasonable stability in its commerce, its report declares, with a perceptible betterment in lumbering, with important inquiries and considerable buying, which have somewhat strengthened "the demoralized prices."

BRIDE TO RISE FROM SEA; DIVING GIRL WILL WED

Oakland Maid to Have Novel Ceremony

The old Grecian myth of Neptune's daughter rising from the sea, to be claimed as a bride, will be enacted in tableaux at the Exposition tonight—but as a real wedding. Miss Lorena Lorenz of Oakland will become the bride of A. L. Lloyd, after rising from a glass diving tank, surrounded by a bevy of fair diving-girls, who will act as bridesmaids.

While the maids of the deep will attend the bride, the king of the air will be the best man, in the person of Art Smith, the aviator, and a San Francisco clergyman will read the ceremony.

Miss Lorenz, who lives with her parents at 6546 Telegraph avenue, is one of the best known horsewomen in the United States. Some time ago she retired from professional riding. She used to dive on a horse's back from a high platform into a pool of water, and was known as "The Bravest Girl in the World."

The bridegroom-to-be is well known as an amusement concession promoter, and has had charge of several concessions at the Exposition. Following the wedding, the couple will travel East.

Genee Winter Is Champion Feline

Genee Winter of Oakland has received Exposition honors.

Not a bronze plaque—oh, no—the foundry's not making those any more—this is something better—a parchment placard. It sets forth that Genee Winter is the finest cat shown at the Exposition Cat Show. It carried with it the grand prize of the Exposition for the cat's owner, Mrs. H. F. Eckhart.

Genee Winter is a wonderful specimen of the shaded silver color variety. There were 150 cats in the race with her, including champions of the Pacific Coast, and a number of Eastern feline notables.

For second honors a smoke-colored Persian, owned by Mrs. Ann Abbott of San Francisco, won.

Other winners announced were:

Blue-eyed classes, Mrs. E. C. Monohan; golden-eyed whites, Mrs. O. R. Baxter, Mrs. William C. Lynch, Miss Melba Henry, Henry, Mrs. John D. Mercer; blacks, Miss Josephine La Gai; blues, Mrs. Alfred C. Aid for Country Girl, Woman's Life Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Helping the lonely girl of the small town and of the outlying districts to link up with the great interests of modern civilization is the life work of Mrs. Warren Mifflin Leeds of New York, wife of the multi-millionaire clubman and scion of the famous Leeds family, which is related through marriage with some of the oldest English aristocracies. Mrs. Leeds, with her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Mott Hartshore of New York, is making a short visit to San Francisco after an absence of 15 years.

At the Palace Hotel today Mrs. Leeds said she was carrying on this work among the young girls who lack the advantages of the big centers as a memorial to her mother, Mrs. James M. Hartshore.

"The girl of the great city, with her countless temptations, has been claiming almost the entire attention of the social worker," said Mrs. Leeds, "but it is the lonely girl of the town of 5000 or less who is really the root of the problem."

Mrs. Leeds and her husband are ardent adherents of the old Quaker faith. Mrs. Leeds is a descendant of James Mott, the famous Quaker, and Lucretia Mott, the first suffragette in America. Her husband claims Warner Mifflin, another noted Quaker, as his great-grandfather.

ENGINEER OF HAYWARD IS UNDER FIRE

Property Owners Protest Assessment for Street

Trustees Responsible for Their Contract, He Answers

Complaining property owners along the newly paved C street in Hayward packed the meeting of the town trustees last night complaining that the board had been "misled" when it ordered the work done a year ago and demanding the summary removal of Town Engineer Robert Goodwin.

Engineer Goodwin was not present at the meeting. He was seen this morning and said that he was in no way responsible for the cost of the pavement, as the contracts had been let and sanctioned by the town trustees of Hayward and not by him. He added, however, that he had advised the board to cancel the first bid received, as he considered it too high. He said those who had protested had been misinformed as to the cost, which would not be, when the work was completed, including curbing and gutters, more than twenty-one cents a foot.

GROUNDS OF OBJECTION.

That too expensive pavement had been installed for the needs of that particular street and that the cost assessments were arbitrary, making no distinction as to different widths while the price per square foot exceeded the estimate of town engineer by seven to twelve cents, were the alleged grounds upon which the protestants based their complaint.

The matter of accepting the street was before the trustees. The session was the liveliest that has been held in Hayward for some time and excitement raged at times as the different protestants addressed the trustees.

Mayor Charles Heyer voiced his resentment at having been charged $500 for work which he had figured would cost him about $300, while his adjoining neighbor paid at an altogether different rate.

Dr. A. J. Powell, one of the leaders in the lobby, declared that the board had been "misled" at the time the contract was let and demanded that Engineer Goodman "be removed from office."

Frank Oliver and Vincent Strobel, the latter a brother-in-law of Mayor Heyer, also addressed the trustees, voicing their grievances.

WORK UNDER BOND PLAN.

The work was done under the bond payment system, as provided in a law passed by the last Legislature. The protestants complained that the debts incurred against them would have to be paid in an arbitrary manner as the result, while at the same time it is practically mandatory upon the trustees to accept the street.

When the work was ordered by the board, it is claimed, Engineer Goodwin submitted an estimate showing that the work would cost about 18 cents a square foot or at the outside not more than 20 cents. The bills as presented showed that the work had cost from 27 cents to 32 cents per foot, under the contracts with the paving company. Engineer Goodwin was to receive five per cent of the total cost, which amounted to about $12,000.

In place where the street varied in width several feet the cost per front foot to the property owners amounted to about the same.

"I had nothing to do with the contract," said Goodwin today. "The bids were asked for by the town trustees and contract was let by them. At no time did I ever tell the residents and property owners of C street that the work would cost from 18 to 20 cents a square foot. I did recommend rejecting the first bids for the work, as I considered them too high. As for my receiving five per cent of the contract price, that is the provision of a town ordinance of Hayward and the way in which I am paid."

OPEN MEETING TONIGHT.

RICHMOND, Dec. 2.—An open meeting is to be held this evening by the Moose in their hall and club rooms. The affair will include a program and a general social time. It is in charge of a committee composed of Dr. W. R. Scroggs, Capt. W. H. Evans and R. Forwick.

FERRYBOAT HITS PILES; MANY HURT

Tide Forces Craft Upon Dolphin at Alameda Pier

Women Are Among the Victims of Crash on Bay

One woman is injured, probably fatally, several persons severely injured and many are nursing minor hurts as the result of an accident to the ferryboat Oakland at the Alameda slip at midnight. Out of control, the Oakland smashed into the slip with a force that sent passengers sprawling.

The forward decks were crowded at the time, and amazement is expressed that more were not seriously injured.

Mrs. Charles Stewart, 2104 Alameda avenue, Alameda, the most seriously injured, is at her home in an unconscious condition, while her attending physicians hold out little hope for her recovery. She was knocked to the deck when the big ferry bumped into the dolphins at the side of the slip. She struck against a baby carriage and incurred internal injuries, bruises and lacerations. She was removed to her home in an ambulance from the train.

Mrs. Albert Smith, residing with Mrs. Stewart, is suffering from nervous shock and slight contusions.

Mrs. G. A. Mersero, residing at 1241 College avenue, who fainted during the commotion, received bruises. She was revived after the boat docked and taken to her home.

Fred Erlich, 712 Pacific avenue, Alameda, sustained bruises and sprains which are more or less serious, while numerous other people whose names were not ascertained were shaken and bruised. A large number of women passengers suffered from nervous shock.

Captain Spohn, who had charge of the Oakland, reported that the tide had swung the boat about, with the result that control was lost for a sufficient length of time to make it impossible to avert the crash. The Oakland struck the dolphin while slowing down to enter the slip. The terrific impact shook the vessel from stem to stern and she careened from the blow.

The decks were pitched to an angle and the passengers who were not knocked from their feet had difficulty in maintaining their positions. It was several minutes before the boat was tied up.

The sides of the slip were considerably damaged, while the ferry will have to undergo repairs.

Defense Scores in Schmidt Trial

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—To offset the adverse testimony rendered yesterday by B. J. Cook, the prosecution in the trial of Mathew A. Schmidt, charged with the murder of one of the twenty victims of the Times' bomb explosion here October 1, 1910, brought to the stand today Herbert F. Wood, a bank official of Indianapolis, to identify signatures alleged to have been made by James B. McNamara, confessed dynamiter of the newspaper building. When shown the signature of "J. B. Bryce" on the hotel register of the Hotel Argonaut, San Francisco, under date of September 18, 1910, Cook said it was in the handwriting not of James B. McNamara, as previously testified by other witnesses, but by his brother, John J. McNamara. This created confusion in the ranks of the prosecution, which was further increased when Cook added that the signature "F. A. Perry" on the same register had been made by Herbert F. Hockin, although Schmidt, the present defendant had been identified as the man known as Perry at the San Francisco hotel.

Minister Saves Lives of Twenty-Four Persons

Despairing Folk Are Redeemed to Society

Suicides Are Averted by Practical Theology

First Aid to Sinners Is Oakland Pastor's Ministrations

(By Walter Bodin)

The time has come, the Walrus said,
To talk of many things:
Of shoes and ships and sealing wax
And cabbages and kings.

Just as Lewis Carroll, who was Professor Something-or-other when he wasn't poking around in unexplored realms with Alice and the world tagging at his heels, or talking about such things as shoes and ships, cabbages and kings, just as he annexed the boundless wonderland to his field of mathematics, so has John M. Jackson added the little-explored domain of psychology to that domestic almadom, theology.

Psychology, with generous handfuls of humaneness kneaded in, comes first with him. Theology, in this instance, has second place. He believes first, in saving lives, and then, in looking after the souls.

In little more than a week's time, through the medium of Oakland's strangest institutions—an anti-suicide bureau—he has convinced twenty-four persons that life is preferable to death by suicide.

NOW SAVE THEMSELVES.

Their lives saved, these twenty-four persons—three women and twenty-one men—may now proceed to save their own souls, for John M. Jackson, in saving their lives, mapped out, through suggestion, through humaneness, above all, through understanding, the path to the Utopian land of Right Living. The boundaries? They are in the hearts and souls of the individuals.

Oakland knows Rev. Jackson as the pastor of the Eighth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. His congregation knows him as a dynamic minister who thinks. The twenty-four know him as a man who knows and understands.

So the comparison between the doings of Lewis Carroll and John M. Jackson is an apt one. For didn't the world gape and gulp when a dust-dry pedagogue left the walled-in, unattractive paths of mathematics to run dizzy, glorious circles about an unheard-of dazzling wonderland.

AN ETHICAL PIONEER.

Well, our part of the world, right now, is gaping at the Rev. Jackson, for he has left a beaten track and is forging an incandescent road into the marshlands of the miserable. He is accomplishing something new—something not usually looked for in a minister.

Rev. Jackson—it seems to spoil an illusion to call him "Reverend"—received his journalistic introduction to this side of the bay a month ago as a man who has ideas. He has illustrated that one of them, at least, is not an impracticable theory, for he has made a success in the strange business of dissuading man and woman from committing suicide.

Little more than a week ago he announced through THE TRIBUNE that he has established an anti-suicide bureau in his parsonage at 1633 Eighth avenue. The world—our world—smiled. Anti-suicide bureau? Ho, ho! Only another self-seeking preacher trying to advertise himself!

The other world, the one with the cloud that has no lining, read with wistful eyes. Twenty-four of its misery-sodden inhabitants made a pilgrimage to the anti-suicide bureau, as Christians carry sin-stained souls to a shrine, or as Mohammedans drag weary, fanatical bodies to Mecca.

THE HEARTSICK COME.

"The first to come was a man," the psycho-theologist recited, his words warm and colorful with enthusiasm. "His heart and his soul and his body were sick. His body was not sick enough for death, but his heart and his soul were. He had decided to commit suicide, he said. We talked it over as two men might have discussed a deal in stocks.

"I had little trouble in learning his story. His misery, so long barricaded in his heart, swept from him in a dirge. I understood. I didn't have to tell him I understood. When he saw this, his interest in life revived. He emptied his heart of its wormwood of misery and despair, and then I talked and filled it with. Oh, I don't know what. I just talked. I didn't preach. It wasn't Christianity, as the conventional world knows it. It was just homely humanity. I saved that man's life."

And right here Rev. Jackson explained his idea. Years of observation and understanding have led him to the conclusion that one simple word covers every cause of suicide. It is:

"Disunion."

Sounds abstruse, eh? Well, read the qualification:

"Every case in which a man or woman contemplates suicide manifests some phase or other of disunion. By disunion I mean the want of life kindred to one's own, which manifests itself in a desire to escape being a separate atom and falling into an abyss that has no sense of one. Now this, in my opinion, is the cause of suicide.

ALL THINGS A PART.

"What every man must have is union with the universe, with his fellow man. All suicides are alone. They have no union in emotional relationships or in work. Ennui is a very important form of disunion. It is that which makes so many rich people commit suicide. This grows out of their exclusiveness, the lack of community with their fellow beings.

"No man who commits suicide feels indestructibly a part of the universe. For instance, if a man goes out on a beautiful morning and sees the smile of the grass and flowers the laughter of the trees, and listens to the love songs of the birds, if he sees and feels all of this, then he is the farthest from suicide. The same is true with his relations with his fellow beings.

"So my problem, when a man or woman comes to me with the suicide virus in the brain, is to restore union. This disunion, no matter what it's cause, is that which places you and every one else in hell until you have told your troubles to some one who will understand, some one who will understand, mind you, not some one who will try to correct and to condemn.

THE CLEAVAGE LINES.

"Disunion appears in the forms of certain cleavages. First and most frequent, it appears along 'moral' lines. The second form of its appearance is along lines that I call 'ingrowing' consciousness, and, third, social maladjustments, which, on the one hand make so many poor people want to end it all and, on the other, produce suicides among the rich.

"With regard to the first cause, I believe that few, if any, persons commit suicide by reason of the fear of going hungry. No, it's disunion they fear, the loss of their 'moral' standing, the having no part in the lives of men, the losing of caste—that's the thing they fear. Of course, there are many other things to be considered also, disorders of the nervous system, and so forth, but that's understood.

"Now, concerning the matter of 'ingrowing' consciousness."

Here a nervous hand brushed back the thick hair, and he leaned the weight of his big chest across the table, his body tensed in the eagerness to drive his meaning home. Oh, he's vital, this Jackson.

"It is a fundamental law of human nature that there shall be union. Everything, fundamentally speaking, comes from the union of people. The law is, therefore, that the content of consciousness demands expression. When painful memories are repressed they produce inner tension. To the discerning this inner tension manifests itself in lapses of memory, slips of speech, preoccupation, lack of spontaneity. It may manifest itself in dreams in its most malignant form, as in the suicidal impulse.

THEY COME WITH LIES.

"My problem is to get these memories expressed. These people, when they first come to me, lie to me. The poor, wretched devils have been repressed so long they just can't tell their weary woes. Very often they don't know what to tell; they don't know what the disturbing factor is. It is then that I ask them about their dreams—I have to get to these things sometimes by way of man's borderland experiences."

That's about all. Of course, there are many other things that Rev. Jackson wrestled with in arriving at this psychological philosophy, but these are the main points. Then he told simply and warmly, of what he had done under his anti-suicide bureau establishment was announced in THE TRIBUNE.

Of the twenty-four persons who took their jaded lives to Rev. Jackson, seeking priceless content to mix into their soul stuff, three were women. One was young and should have been happy, another was middle-aged, and had been very happy—too happy, the third was old and, being very poor, financially, had seldom met that Will-o-the-wisp, Happiness.

"I have sinned," the young one said. "I have sinned and am very wretched."

"Have you heard of a woman whom men called Magdalen?" the man asked. "She sinned, and yet her name will live through the ages."

And he talked. She talked. That's all. She left after an hour with a new philosophy and a heart made whole.

THE PRICE SHE PAID.

"The second woman, she of middle-age, was the next," he resumed. "Ah, that woman! I'll never forget her, and her seamed soul."

Here he unfolded a tragedy of modernity, the story of the woman who has loved and lost all—respect, the tolerance of others, the humaneness of humans, hope, beauty, dreams, illusions, everything—in the loving.

"She had left a wealthy husband for a man who said he loved her. When the white heat of this man's love tempered into cold indifference, the hubsand, merciless, published her tragedy to the world. Her 'sin' became a journalistic classic. Her picture and her life were poured into moulds with printers' ink; her soul was sluiced through a battery of linotype machines. Her 'reputation' dogged her over the United States."

"What's the use?" she asked. Rev. Jackson told her. He is still telling her.

"I am still working with that woman," he narrated. "If I can save her life, it will indeed be an accomplishment well worth while."

The third woman, the old one, was soul-and-heart-sick. Five children, a drunken husband and a future more sordid, apparently, than the past, were her sole possessions.

"I don't know just how old that woman is," Rev. Jackson mused. "She probably looks twenty years older than she is. She told me that three of her children are young. Well, I had a fight with her, but won."

Then came the sad-visaged men.

THE STUDIOUS PHASE.

"One of these was an interesting case," the head of the bureau said, unconsciously his face assuming the mask of the student. "He said he thought he was about to become a burglar. We had a nice talk. He told me that he had work, but was receiving so small a salary that he could not support his family properly, and was seriously considering burglary as a side line. It was either burglary or suicide, he said. Well, we had a learned discourse on burglary as a trade. I didn't try to dissuade him from committing burglary, but asked him to think over what burglary would do to himself, the world, his family. I think he'll keep on living and working without fear of the penitentiary."

He told of the others who had come to him with self-murder in their hearts and left with a will to live. There was a man past middle age whose young wife—she was less than 20—had left him when his fortune was gone. He feared that she was about to become a prostitute. And there was a man here from the East, whose wife had died suddenly, and he had been taken very ill. Another was an Oakland business man who feared that he was about to lose his mind because business cares kept sleep from him at night. Poverty, wretchedness and fear were the companions of most. All were suffering from "disunion," that most fearful of the diseases.

BEYOND ALL PRICE.

Not one asked for money. None sought financial aid.

"They were looking for something that gold will not buy," the minister concluded. "They all got it, too, in more or less degree."

This is real work that Rev. Jackson is doing. He will continue to do it. The anti-suicide bureau has been established on a foundation that will support it so long as there is need for such an institution. Rev. Jackson turned at the door as he was leaving and called back, the tenseness of unfeigned enthusiasm showing in every line of his body:

REV. JOHN M. JACKSON.

Defective Baby Not Saved by Doctors

Physicians Decide Not to Operate

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Margaret Roberts, the deformed and paralyzed baby whose birth caused a discussion here similar to that over the defective baby allowed to die recently in Chicago, died today in the Babies' Hospital.

The infant was born November 23. Its lower limbs were paralyzed and its feet deformed. Its mental condition was reported to be normal. Dr. Maurice Lewinberg, the physician who attended Mrs. Roberts asserted that a surgical operation could save the child's life and mentality, although it would be a lifelong cripple.

He offered to perform the operation, but after considerable controversy it was decided to leave the child's fate to a board of physicians. This board decided against the operation.

Crowds Gather at Opening of Reichstag

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—"Yesterday, as usual," says the Overseas News Agency, "at the opening of the Reichstag large crowds gathered around the building and the neighboring streets. Among the throng were some who made demonstrations in favor of a settlement of the problem of government regulation of prices and the distribution of food.

"Germany's enemies, no doubt, will again spread all over the world ridiculous reports about Berlin street riots and make other insinuations which in no way correspond with the truth."

FORD'S PARTY IS SHORT PASSPORTS

Members of Peace Expedition Not to Visit Belligerent Countries.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Secretary Lansing announced today that members of the peace party planning to sail on the ship chartered by Henry Ford will not be given passports to belligerent countries, but only to neutral states in Europe.

FORD NOT WELCOME.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Unofficial dispatches were received here today saying that Holland did not care to have Henry Ford's peace party, which arrives on Saturday aboard the Oscar II, use its soil as a peace forum.

Ford sent a cablegram to Dr. N. Loudon, foreign minister of The Netherlands, denying that his party intended to start a strike among the fighting soldiers.

Ford was quoted on Tuesday by newspapers all over the country as saying at his home in Detroit that he had faith that on Christmas day the world would see a general strike in the trenches, that soldiers of all nations would throw down their arms and go home, never to return. Now he declares he said nothing of the kind and is anxious to have the neutral European nations understand that his party is not going abroad to foment a strike of any kind.

Say Wrong Gates Are Used on Trains

Complaining that the operation of the Southern Pacific east-bound trains in Seventh street are rendered unsafe and inconvenient because the gates on th south side are kept closed, the Seventh Street and South Side Improvement Club ask an investigation on the part of the State Railroad Commission in a petition filed today. The complaint, which is signed by Louis Schaffer, president of the club, declares that the east-bound locals are operated on the southerly tracks and that in consequence passengers when allowed to alight through the northerly gates are forced to cross the tracks on which trains run in an opposite direction. This, it is claimed, is dangerous and is also inconvenient for persons living on the south side.

Miller could not understand the nature of the messages, but made out the names of the ships without trouble.

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray-haired person look 20 years younger. The Oakland Women's Household Show, the most complete exposition of articles for the home ever displayed in Oakland, opens tonight at the municipal auditorium. The finishing touches on the setting for the show in the arena of the auditorium were made last night and every one of the exhibits, more than 200 in number, made by the manufacturers and merchants of the bay cities, has been installed. Thousands of parti-colored electric lights have been strung, festoons of greenery and flowers and red, white and blue colors being used to make a fitting setting.

Tonight will be Oakland Chamber of Commerce Commercial Club night and special committees of this organization have prepared a splendid program. More than 3000 invitations have been issued to men and women of the east bay cities. Governor Hiram Johnson is invited to be among the speakers of the evening. The mayors of twenty cities and representatives of the chambers of commerce of the bay and interior cities will attend. Frank A. Leach Jr., as chairman of the special committee in charge of the program, will be temporary chairman of the evening and Thomas Fallon of Berkeley permanent chairman. Mayor John L. Davie will make the address of welcome to the visitors. Mayor S. C. Irving of Berkeley, Mayor Frank H. Bartlett of Alameda, representatives of the Sacramento, Stockton and San Jose chambers of commerce and of several commercial organizations of San Francisco will make short talks.

RECEPTION FIRST.

The first feature of the evening will be a reception to the guests by the honorary advisory committee, of which Frank A. Leach Jr. is chairman and Atlee F. Hunt is secretary. The musical program will open with the singing of patriotic selections by the Alameda county 1915 chorus, consisting of 300 voices, under the direction of Alexander Stewart, a big American flag to be unfurled at the same time. Mrs. Ruth Waterman Anderson, the Hawaiian Glee Club from the pineapple gardens of the palace of horticulture, Panama-Pacific Exposition; the Claremont Trio, composed of Belle Campbell, Bess Fleming and John Saboda, Paul Allen, Mrs. Rose Allen and Miss Marian Oliver will take part in a big musical program.

The largest single exhibit will be that of Alameda county, which will cover 1600 square feet of floor space. The communities of San Leandro, Hayward, Mission San Jose, Pleasanton, Niles and other districts will be represented with a fine display of fruits, vegetables, grains and other food products. The exhibit of the Oakland postoffice, arranged by Postmaster J. J. Rosborough; an exhibit by the Alameda County Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis; moving pictures showing the work done by the county schools under the supervision of County Superintendent George W. Frick, and an electric display with nearly a dozen firms exhibiting, will be among the features.

VOCATIONAL EXHIBIT.

Chief in interest to the visitors will be the exhibit by the Oakland Vocational School in charge of Mrs. L. W. Robbins. Demonstrations in cookery, dressmaking, millinery and other domestic arts will be given by the pupils. Among the girls to show the work done in the cooking school are Almyra Vaughan and Laura Porter.

Housewives of the bay cities are taking a keen interest in the cooking school, which will be conducted every afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock in the ballroom of the auditorium by Mrs. Mary L. Haines. She will give courses of all kinds free and special demonstrations are to be given for brides. Mrs. Carrie E. Dwelle, a graduate of the Boston school of cooking, will give lectures on the theory and practice of cooking in room B on the balcony floor.

Among features of the household show, which closes Saturday evening, December 11, will be a baby show, with 500 entries, a wedding, special nights for many of the civic, commercial, fraternal, women's, improvement and labor organizations.

Included in the list of patronesses are Mrs. Frank Havens, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. J. C. Downey, Mrs. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Mark L. Requa, Mrs. G. W. Harrison, Mrs. Edwin W. Owen, Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland, Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. M. J. Laymance, Mrs. Robert Lewis Hill, Mrs. Leslie Rice, Mrs. Danville W. Starrett, Mrs. William H. Mikado Leads Great Military Spectacle

TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 2.—The greatest military spectacle of peace times in the history of Japan was witnessed in Tokio today. Fifty thousand soldiers—infantry, artillery and cavalry—selected from all parts of the Empire, were reviewed by Emperor Yoshihito, in celebration of his coronation. Ten aeroplanes and several dirigibles represented the aerial branch of the service.

Before the parade the Emperor rode through the ranks. He was accompanied by the military attaches of the various embassies, including Colonel James A. Irons, the American attache.

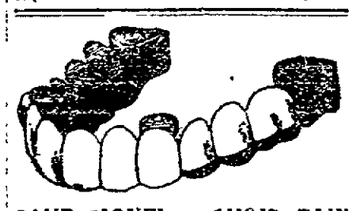

The review of troops was witnessed by the diplomatic corps, including the American ambassador, George W. Guthrie, all members of his staff and their wives, and by Rear-Admiral Albert G. Winterhalter, commander of the Asiatic fleet of the United States, and the officers of the cruiser Saratoga.

Minnesota Crippled, Drags Into Port

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Moving slowly up the coast at less than half speed with her machinery crippled and her crew disconsolate the big liner Minnesota which recently hauled down the Stars and Stripes because of the operation of the La Follette shipping bill, is expected to reach port Monday morning. The Minnesota was making her farewell voyage in the Pacific when a wireless message was received telling of an accident to her machinery. She was on her way to the United Kingdoms with 15,000 tons of cargo including wheat, barley, and canned salmon. She is under charter from Balfour-Guthrie and Company and sailed from the Sound on November 14. The Minnesota was formerly operated by James J. Hill who gave as his reason for taking her out of the Pacific the restrictions of the new Seaman's bill.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Representative Joseph G. Cannon narrowly escaped death or serious injury here yesterday while on his way to Washington.

"Uncle Joe" left the Union League Club and, disregarding Chicago traffic regulations, started diagonally across Jackson boulevard.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. William Lyons and Claude Seales, a boarder at their home, are dying in a hospital here as a result of eating toadstools which they mistook for mushrooms yesterday afternoon. Many Disqualified by Seamen's Act

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Less than 50 per cent of the able seamen in this port have qualified under the requirements of the new seamen's act. It is the opinion of the local steamship inspectors that of the [illegible] employed on vessels operating out of this port more than [illegible] will be thrown out of employment because of their inability to pass the physical examination.

About 1400 able seamen have been issued certificates by the steamship inspectors. The rush for certificates which began a few days before the new law went into effect, November 4, is over. A few straggling "A. B.'s" now present themselves as applicants for certificates at the Custom-house, where hundreds thronged the place daily for the first two weeks.

Italian Forces to Fight in Albania

ROME, Dec. 2.—What is believed to have been an intimation that an Italian expedition will be sent to Albania was given by Foreign Minister Sonnino in his address before parliament when he said that as soon as possible the Italian flag "would wave from the opposite coast of the Adriatic to help the Serbians."

Uncle Wiggily Celebrates Thanksgiving

(By Howard R. Garis.)

'Twas close to Thanksgiving and all through the wood was the odor of pie, cake and other things good. The animal children were in their stump school, where the lady mouse taught them the nice golden rule.

"Johnny Bushytail," said the lady mouse teacher, to the little squirrel boy, "you may tell the class what Thanksgiving is for."

"So you can have a good dinner and not have to come to school," answered Johnnie, frisking his tail sideways.

"Oh, my, no!" exclaimed the lady mouse teacher, laughing so hard that her whiskers wiggled. "Billie Wagtail, what do you say Thanksgiving is for?" she asked the boy goat.

"For playing football," answered Billie, who was very fond of butting the ball about with his hard horns.

"Oh, my, no!" said the lady mouse. "Lulu Wibblewobble, you may tell us," and the teacher pointed her paw at the duck girl.

"If you please, teacher," quacked Lulu, sort of wiggling her wing feather, "I think Thanksgiving is made to be thankful."

"Right!" cried the lady mouse teacher. "That's just what it is for. And now school is over for today. But when you come back next week, I want you all to give me a reason why you were thankful on Thanksgiving Day."

Out of the hollow stump school hopped, scampered, ran, flew or waddled the animal children, which ... as ... they could go, and soon no one was left but the chalk, which began to draw pictures on the blackboards.

"Well, I know what I'm thankful for," said the chalk, "and that is, I won't be stepped on by the children until next week, anyhow."

As the animal children hurried home from school one by one they met, in turn, Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman. And to each child Uncle Wiggily said:

"Now tomorrow is Thanksgiving, and I want you and your papa and mamma and all your folks to come to my hollow stump bungalow for dinner. Nurse Jane is going to cook a fine one. There will be ice cream and lollypops and baked carrots and puddings and cake and pies —everything good. So be sure to come!"

"We will!" said the squirrels, rabbits, guinea pigs, goats, ducks, chipmunks, kittie cats and puppy dogs—in fact, all of Uncle Wiggily's animal friends who lived in Woodland promised to come.

When he had given out all his invitations the rabbit gentleman hurried to the hollow stump bungalow to help Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"For Nurse Jane will have much to do tomorrow, to get such a big dinner for all my friends," said Uncle Wiggily, "and I must help her all I can."

And there was much to do in the hollow stump bungalow. There were carrots to peel, apples to make ready to go into dumplings, ice cream to flavor, and, at the last minute Uncle Wiggily had to go to the store for the lollypops, for he had promised the animal children there would be plenty of them.

The rabbit gentleman was hopping along through the woods, going after the lollypop candies, when he came to a log that lay across the path.

"Well, I guess I'm not too old to jump over a log like that!" playfully exclaimed the bunny uncle, as he gave a hop and a spring and up in the air he went.

But alas! Likewise unhappiness! When Uncle Wiggily came down, on the other side of the log, he landed on a little frozen puddle of water. He broke through the ice, and he was held fast there, unable to pull out his paws.

"Oh dear!" thought poor Uncle Wiggily as he hauled and tugged. "This is too bad! What shall I do? If I can't get loose there won't be any Thanksgiving for me, or my little animal friends. That would be too bad!"

Well, Mr. Longears tried and tried to get loose from the ice, but he could not, and it was getting later and later, and soon the lollypop stores would close, and the next day would be Thanksgiving.

"Oh, what shall I do?" Uncle Wiggily cried, as he froze tighter and tighter in the ice." "Help! Help! he cried. "Will some one please help me."

"Yes, of course I'll help you," cried a voice, and who should come along but Billy Bushytail, the boy squirrel. "What's the matter, Uncle Wiggily?" he asked.

"I'm frozen fast in the ice of a puddle," answered the rabbit gentleman. "Can you get me out?"

"Why, certainly," spoke Billie. "See, I have just been in the five-and-ten-cent store to get an ice pick for mother to use in picking the meats out of hickory nuts. I'll pick the ice away from your legs with that and you'll be loose."

So taking care not to tickle Uncle Wiggily, the squirrel boy picked the ice to pieces with the sharp ice pick, and Uncle Wiggily could pull his paws out. Then he thanked Billie and hurried on to the store for the lollypops.

The next day was Thanksgiving. All the big and little animals in Woodland came to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow. And such a good dinner as there was! Mrs. Wibblewobble, the duck lady, and Mrs. Bushytail, the squirrel lady, and Mrs. Littletail, the rabbit lady, all helped Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy wait on the table.

And what fun the animal children had! And the games they played, and the ice cream and lollypops they ate! Not too much, you understand, but just enough. And they were sorry when Thanksgiving was over.

The next week in school the lady mouse teacher asked Sammie Littletail, the rabbit, what he was most thankful for.

"If you please," said Sammie, "I'm thankful because Billy Bushytail helped Uncle Wiggily out of the ice so he could have his Thanksgiving dinner with us."

"Good!" cried the lady mouse. "And we're all thankful for that!" So it's a good thing to be thankful, you see, and if the cowboy doesn't jump out of the moving picture and lasso the piano player I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Hunter Man.

CASTLE OF COUNTS FOR HOTEL DESIGN

TRUCKEE, Dec. 2.—Anita M. Baldwin, daughter of the late E. J. Baldwin, has gone back to the days of the crusaders for a design for the magnificent hotel with which she will replace the Hotel Tallac on the shores of Lake Tahoe.

The inspiration for the architecture comes from the ancient castle of the Counts of Ghent, in Flanders, where, a thousand years ago, dwelt Baldwin de Lis, from whom the Baldwin family traces its lineage.

The new hotel will be started next spring. The structure will have a frame of reinforced concrete and will have extreme dimensions of 360x275 feet.

Much of the interior will be finished in Flemish oak and each of the larger rooms will contain a huge granite fireplace.

BOLD KNIGHT WINS BRIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—In the days of old, when knights were bold, it was quite the usual thing for the chivalrous suitor to hold a convoy of bandits at bay with his pistol and later marry the lady. In fact, that's the way the stories always ended.

Chester M. Coleman, a thoroughly modern knight, who resides at 63 Shotwell street, yesterday brought his own romance to the time-hallowed conclusion by taking his bride, the lady of his choice, Miss Ruth Olsen, of 312 Thirteenth avenue.

Deeds of valor were not missing from the courtship. Last July Coleman was saying good-night to Miss Olsen in front of her home when two automobile bandits pointed guns at him and commanded him to stand and deliver.

Quick as a flash he drew his own trusty revolver. A duel of wild shots followed and the bandits fled.

The marriage license yesterday was secured in San Rafael.

WOMAN PLAYS "COP"; BEATEN

FRESNO, Dec. 2.—Donning a borrowed patrolman's uniform Mrs. Mary Bier tried the life of a policeman last night. Two "black" eyes, several bruises about the body and an ache in every bone is what came the way of the woman in one brief hour.

Mrs. Bier, as a joke, attempted to arrest a neighbor, Sam Huck. Drawing a billy she tapped Huck lightly on the head. George Huck, a brother to the supposed prisoner, then sprang at the woman and the fight was on. Today a complaint was issued against Huck for battery, but the court dismissed the case.

Brill, of Oakland Council No. 394, United Commercial Travelers, expressed appreciation today of the results following the announcement that he wanted to receive the names of all past beneficiaries of the local council, so they all could be gathered together December 20, at Pythian Castle, for a huge festival of Christmas cheer.

Tomorrow evening's "hard times dance" to be given by the commercial men at Maple Hall, Fourteenth and Webster streets, is the main link in the chain of events leading up to the Big Night December 20. The entire proceeds of tomorrow evening's dance will go to provide a Christmas tree.

There will be gifts on that tree for all the kiddies that come.

Will Not Delay Christmas Mail

There will be no delays in handling Christmas mail in Oakland this year. The usual congestion has been overcome by Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough in obtaining two rooms for the use of his department in the Southern Pacific station at Sixteenth street.

Instead of sending mail to the main postoffice from the overland trains, there to be distributed to the various substations of the department and finally apportioned to the carriers, it will be distributed direct from the railroad station to the substations. All the parcel post business will also be handled through Sixteenth stret station.

Girl Attempts to Hang Self in Cell

Fashions Noose From Twisted Blanket

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 2.—Twisting a blanket into a rope, a pretty young woman, giving the name of Victoria Martin of Los Angeles, attempted to hang herself in jail in San Bernardino.

After making a noose of the blanket-rope, the girl hung herself to the bars of her cell by jumping from her cot.

She was found by an officer, who cut the blanket and assisted in reviving her.

The girl, who said she was 22 years old, was arrested early in the evening in company with Frank Valenzula at a warehouse at First and G streets, San Bernardino. Both were taken to jail and charged with vagrancy.

The girl declared she had been drugged. This claim was refuted by physicians who examined her. To Officers Besley and Amaris of the San Bernardino police force the girl refused to give her Los Angeles address when she was arrested. The officers stated that they did not believe that Victoria Martin is her true name.

Physicians who were called when the girl was found hanging on the blanket rope stated that she would have died in 15 minutes if she had not been discovered and cut down.

After being treated by physicians the girl refused to make any statements. She would give no reason for her attempt on her life.

Lillian Russell Writes on Nature's Prescription

IN THESE days of scientific progress we hear much of the curative and beneficial properties of the Roentgen, the violet and other rays. But all that the average person needs is to be ... the whole pattern ... by day, as well as by night, under roof. The agricultural fields have emptied almost all their sun-kissed toilers into the city to ... under cover. Inventors are giving the great bulk of ... work to ... and mechanical labors ... employment ... shops, offices and factories. The trend of modern life is written in the pale faces of the city.

The tendency was all in the direction ... Intelligence is demanding the restoration of the sun's beneficial qualities.

It is a happy commentary on modern intelligence when the architectural designs of the day call for wide windows and sun parlors. They are to be found in homes, hotels and offices. Employers are beginning to realize that when their employes are denied the influence of the sun's rays they lose in efficiency. In the home the sun parlor is considered a need for health as well as comfort. The future of the sun parlor is assured by the steady extension of its popularity. It is running a race with the sleeping porch and the two are among the ...

Roentgen startled the world when he sent the X-ray through bodies of solid and opaque substances. But scientists also tell us that the sun's rays strike down and in and penetrate perhaps ... into the soft tissues of the human body. So the influence of the sun is felt by the interior of the body as well as the exterior, its effects are more than superficial and deeper than the skin. We are even informed that the sun colors the blood as it tints the skin. And red blood means health and a good skin coloring.

The Roentgen ray has its place in the world. Eventually its place may be definitely fixed. The energetic ray may be found to have its limits. But who would attempt to measure the limits and value of the sun's rays?

Scientists are using their best efforts to give us such blessings as Roentgen bestowed upon the world. They are working miracles. Their accomplishments are marvelous. Surgeons and physicians are endeavoring to produce cures and remedies for all ills. But fortunately they are also seeking means through which humanity can avoid sickness. And if more use were made of the blessed sunshine there would be less reason to call upon the inventions of man to restore healthy conditions.

The plant soon loses its color if denied sunshine. It becomes anaemic and dies. Mankind cannot live without sunshine. The prison pallor is on the cheek of the man who leaves a cell. Do not lock yourself in a cell to become anaemic and pallid in the absence of sunshine.

The sunshine that filters through pure air is a tonic. And it is one tonic that is within the reach of all. It is written large on every prescription nature gives to both the well and the sick.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.

Highwayman Holds Up Five Autoists

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 2.—Using a shotgun as the signal for stopping his victims and a revolver as the argument in making them keep their hands up while he took their valuables from them, a highwayman put in a busy half hour on the county road a few miles from Sunriver at dusk last night and got more than $40 in cash and two watches for his pains.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herring of Augusta, Edward Grinde and C. B. Newport, the last two of this city, were the known victims. These, with a man whose name was not learned, make five already reported as having been victimized.

She will leave the cradle tomorrow morning.

Married Woman Ceases to Be Father's Child

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 2.—A woman upon marriage is no longer the daughter of her father, but the wife of her husband. This was the gist of a decision handed down in the superior court here yesterday. The action was that of Mrs. Bertha L. Blanton of Scranton, Pa., and was a plea to upset a compensation act judgment made by Commissioner Beers, in Hartford.

Princess at Fair; Prince at Work

'Pr.' on Hotel Register Signifies Rank

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Princess von Hatzfeld, president of the German Red Cross in America and wife of the secretary of the German embassy at Washington, arrived yesterday on what she describes as "just an Exposition visit."

The princess is accompanied by Dr. H. F. Albert of the German embassy, who was to have been German Exposition Commissioner. In San Francisco had German participated, and by Mrs. E. G. [illegible] of New York.

Princess von Hatzfeld's husband visited San Francisco several months ago in the company of Captain Franz von Papen, the man who raised a storm about his ears when references to "idiotic Yankees" were found in his intercepted letters.

On the occasion of his visit the prince registered merely as "Mr. Hatzfeld of New York."

She was follows his modest example, and yesterday registered at the St. Francis as "Pr. Hatzfeld, Washington"—the unpretentious "Pr." standing for "Princess."

Actress to Give Skin to Save Youth's Life

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—Because of her deep sense of gratitude to the physician who, she feels, saved her life after a serious accident and operation last summer, Miss Belle Bennett today gave a portion of her cuticle in order that a boy, whom she had never seen and of whom she had never heard till a day or so ago, may have a fighting chance for his life.

Lawrence Miller of 465 Evergreen avenue, the young lad who in August was frightfully burned by electricity, is the sufferer she is to aid. Since the accident Lawrence has been fighting to live. But the burns would not heal, and Tuesday skin grafting was decided upon.

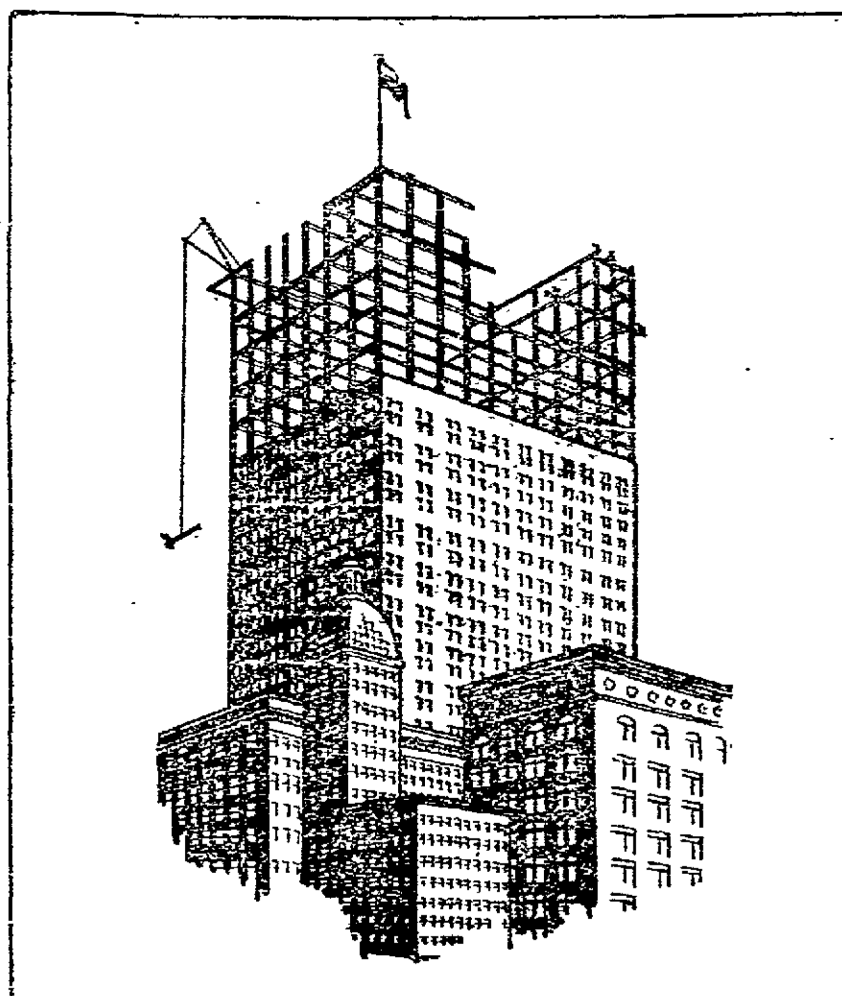

Miss Bennett, who is young and extremely pretty, was born in Dublin Bay Island, Ireland, and recently returned to Los Angeles from her parents' home in Minneapolis again to take up moving picture work.

When through her physician, Dr. Thomas Reed McNab, she heard of young Miller's plight, Miss Bennett as a thank offering for her own recovery agreed to supply as much cuticle as was needed for the operation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—A campaign for the suppression of gambling is being considered by members of the New York State Brewing Association, according to an announcement by Jacob Ruppert, its president. Methods of eliminating liquor saloons which cannot be profitably operated also are under discussion, Colonel Ruppert said.

Brewers who attended the annual convention of the association yesterday heard Colonel Ruppert declare in favor of a campaign to educate the public concerning prohibition movement and to elevate the tone of the liquor trade.

Building For Years to Come

In the erection of modern buildings the primary thought is for endurance.

The same thought should be given to building our own body and brain—but few give it. This building process requires certain essential food elements which, within the body, are converted into the kind of brain, bone, nerve and muscle capable of enduring the severe tests of work and time.

Among the headliners are the new Triangle feature films at the Pantages, Richard Jose, the great [illegible], singing at the Macdonough theater in a motion play, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and a splendid vaudeville bill at the Orpheum.

PANTAGES

With him are Enid Markey, and Louise Glaum, both famous film actresses.

The Broadway Revue continues to draw crowded houses this week, and Manager Pantages' policy of two shows for the price of one has proved a success. On account of the length of the programs only one vaudeville show can be given in the evening. The pictures start at 7 o'clock, and the vaudeville begins about 8:30. Then the pictures are shown again for those who arrived late. The plan has worked to perfection.

MACDONOUGH

It is the same old Jose who is appearing at the Macdonough Theater in person and in film this week, the Richard J. Jose who has appeared before more people in song than any man in the world. Jose has come in a film adaption of the old heart and home ballad which he himself made famous in the old days, "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Jose as an actor and a singer appears three times daily at the Macdonough, at 2:30, 7:00 and 8:30. The engagement of the popular singer will continue through the performance Sunday night, December 5.

"On Trial," which has played to big houses from its great success in Chicago throughout the west, comes to the Macdonough Monday night. Cohan and Harris, noted for the excellence of their dramatic offerings from year to year, are sending the original Chicago cast of players numbering fifty and the same massive scenic sets used in the sensational engagement of thirty weeks in Chicago.

The stage experts who travel in advance of the company are in the city to make the necessary alterations of the Macdonough Theater to stage the "house," the heavy equipment of this wonderful production which created the biggest hit of the year in San Francisco during the past three weeks. The engagement will be limited to the one week positive and those desiring desirable seats should avail themselves of the opportunity of asking reservations in advance.

ORPHEUM

A charming blend of dramatic bits, sweet music, some unusually clever dancers, a lot of talented comedians and indeed all that goes to make up a first class Orpheum vaudeville bill is in evidence this week at the big temple of vaudeville on Twelfth street.

"A Breath of Old Virginia" is a vaudeville classic, perfectly staged and very well played indeed by Miss Genevieve Cliff, Mr. Bartling and half a dozen other actors who make up the company. The little stage trick by which the audience is taken back in this play to a series of events that occur in the past is very much like the device that has made "On Trial" such a famous play.

Much of the fun on this week's bill comes from the clever antics of Sherman, Van and Hyman, three lively lads who have something quite new in the way of musical stuff and funny stuff.

A beautiful act indeed is that of Mazie King, who is acknowledged to be the most pronounced toe dancer of America. Pretty costumes, pretty scenery and all the proper accessories are used to make Miss King's performance a thing of unusual beauty.

"Mysteria," the strange illusion that has kept the audience guessing since Sunday constitutes a pleasing feature of the program.

James Diamond and Sibyl Brennan get a big reception at every show which they deserve. Mr. Brennan is a wonderful dancer and his fun is of the irresistible kind, while Miss Brennan's beauty and songs make her a fine foil for Diamond's foolery.

Ben Beyer has a clever cycling novelty that is full of laughs and thrills.

Bessie De Vore and Guy Livingston offer a series of unique dancing including "The Piping Rock Chase."

The Treymane Concert Quartet, including two men and two women with fine voices render high class ballads in a beautiful way.

Olga, a pretty girl, plays the violin well and dances as she plays, rounds out the program.

REPUBLIC

Gen. Pisano, the famous Italian sharpshooter, is not only a man with a wonderfully acute eye and steady hand, but is also a clever showman. He exhibits at the Republic this week a picture of the Bay of Tripoli, when it was being bombarded by the Italian fleet. The effect is most thrilling and shows that his countrymen are not behind the marines of any nation as marksmen. He does a great deal of remarkable and sensational shooting, one of the tests being the shooting of a rosin ball held between the two assistants' foreheads. Lighting matches on flying bullets from theater balcony, snuffing them and other feats that require absolute accuracy, nerve and skill. Gen. Pisano offers $1000 to any person who proves that he does not hit all the objects shot at with real bullets.

A clever little musical is presented by Ned Norton and a group of pretty girls. Rice brothers have an act full of fun and frolic which keeps the audience laughing. Songs both classical and popular are sung by Madame Devereaux. Mary Fuller, in "Under Southern Skies," is the drawing card in a film play.

OAKLAND PHOTO

Edna Goodrich, the distinguished American actress and world-famous beauty, was presented in her film debut at the Oakland Photo Theater yesterday in the Paramount production of "Armstrong's Wife," a thrilling drama by Margaret Turnbull.

Miss Goodrich has long been considered one of the most versatile actresses and most beautiful women on the English speaking stage and in this stirring photo drama, she has full opportunity to display her wonderful artistic ability.

The plot of the play has to do with a country girl who is tricked into a false marriage by a professional gambler and how she returns to her first love. The action of the play occurs in fashionable New York and in the rugged mountains of the Canadian Rockies.

Miss Goodrich has but lately returned from serving as a nurse in the French Red Cross where she was taken ill but she says that as soon as she finishes her theatrical engagements and has recuperated sufficiently she will return.

As the second feature on this big double program, "Heights of Hazard," a stirring drama from the pen of Cyrus Townsend Brady, author of the recent success, "The Man Who Couldn't Beat God," will be presented.

FRANKLIN

Lillian Lorraine, famous Broadway beauty and star of Ziegfeld's Follies at the Winter Garden for several seasons, will make her first appearance on the screen at the Franklin for three days, commencing today, in a modern problem play entitled, "Should a Wife Forgive?"

Miss Lorraine is "there a [illegible] to look at." She has a superb figure and her gowns are the despair of her rivals. Her type of beauty registers perfectly on the celluloid and the individuality of her style of acting meets all the requirements of the part she plays in the [illegible] drama.

From sides of the situation the picture reflects are vivid and dramatically effective. On the one hand is Lillian Lorraine playing an adventuress with a heart that is cold and calculating. On the other hand is Mabel Van Buren's interpretation of the badly treated wife of [illegible], who is trotting back and forth between the two "homes." The light on this side is heightened by the presence of a child and a dignified mother-in-law, mother of the wife, who has money in her own right.

Because of its unusual ending, and because of the elaborate style in which it was produced, the picture will undoubtedly prove interesting to a great many people—particularly to the feminine spectators, who will have an opportunity to feast their eyes and take items on the fashionable gowns worn by Lillian Lorraine.

HIPPODROME

The Hippodrome has another splendid bill of vaudeville and feature pictures for the last half of the week. All of the new acts are well above the average in entertaining qualities and made a decided hit with yesterday's audiences.

The Sevilla Trio were especially well received. They render a series of operatic [illegible] in a manner that entitles them to headline honors. The woman of the troupe has a remarkably fine soprano voice, and the selections offered are the kind that always meet with popular success.

Les Kellors, a duo of clever acrobats, have an excellent comedy offering in "A Day at the Circus." Billy Mann, one of the old-time blackface comedians, keeps the audience laughing with his songs and stories; Heinie Fisher and his six school kids have an act filled with mirth and melody; Gordon and Elgin are singers and dancers of far more than ordinary ability, and Willard's Temple of Music remains the most striking feature of the bill.

"Hearts of Men" is the feature photo play the Hippodrome offers in connection with this new show, and it is not only an unusually fascinating story but is exceptionally well produced. The pictures of the Oakland Harbor Day are retained for the balance of the week.

Railways Pay $600,000 to Be Investigated

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Electrification of railroads in Chicago as an abatement of the smoke nuisance is practicable technically, but not financially, according to the report of the committee appointed to investigate the subject. The report of the committee was discussed at a banquet last night of the Association of Commerce, a committee of which organization made the report, representing nearly four years of investigation.

It developed during the discussion of the various phases of the report that the expenses of the committee and its staff of engineers and office employes was borne by the railroads at a cost of $600,000. The speakers insisted that the railroads, although paying the bills, had not in any way attempted to influence the findings of the committee.

Ten to Fifty Years Penalty for Bandit

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 2.—Fred Johnson, who has made several attempts to escape from the county jail and once did reach the middle of the river, where he was subdued after a struggle, was sentenced to serve from ten to fifty years in the penitentiary by the superior court today. He was recently convicted of highway robbery and of assault with intent to kill.

The five to thirty years' sentence for assault and five to twenty years for highway robbery are to run consecutively.

CALIFORNIA WILL NOT NARROW GAP

No Arbitration Possible. Say Students at College City.

BERKELEY, Dec. [illegible]—The Stanford-California intercollegiate relations gap still remains [illegible] "stands pat" [illegible] freshman rule. At the Associated [illegible] meeting at the University [illegible] held for the purpose of [illegible] arbitration question, [illegible] Berkeley students unanimously [illegible] Stanford's proposal.

It was the opinion of the spokesmen for the student body that the only arbitration that could possibly be done would be in regard to the freshman clause, for which California has stood firm during the entire controversy. It would be hypocrisy of the worst form, according to the speakers, to stand for a rule so ardently and so forcefully and then when they had found that their athletic success did not depend on the Stanford-California contests, then to retrench.

1. There was nothing to arbitrate except the freshman rule.

2. California would not change in her policy on the same, and

3. Although California was willing to be on the best of terms with Stanford, it would wait for action on the part of Stanford before an agreement would be reached.

It was also unanimously decided at the same meeting to ratify the constitution of the A. S. U. C. and the matter was left in the hands of a committee, which was to consider carefully the facts and submit its recommendation the first meeting of next semester.

Schaeffer Defended in 'Bear Facts,' U. C. Paper

BERKELEY, Dec. 2.—"Bear Facts. One Issue—One Purpose—A Square Deal." is the title of a spasmodic issue of a paper at the University of California published for the purpose of vindicating James G. Schaeffer, who resigned as coach of the California teams following the flood of criticism and student opinion brought about after the Washington-California football game. The issue is edited by members of the senior and junior classes in sympathy with Schaeffer, and each article in the entire four pages is either directly or indirectly relative to the California coach.

"Every Eye Wet at Schaeffer's Farewell," "Learn Facts Before Knocking Schaeffer," "Varsity Eleven Lauds Work of Schaeffer," "Success of Team Was Due to Jim Schaeffer," "Brass Tacks Demands Square Deal for Jim" and "Ignorant Credulity Necessary to Knock" were some of the headlines in the issue, and these, together with several other articles not so direct by bearing upon Schaeffer's resignation in some way or another composed this one-issue publication.

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Quickly. Cheap and Easily Made

WOMEN ATHLETES SERIOUS IN AIMS, SAYS TEACHER

MISS RUTH MERRILL, ONE OF CRACK FENCERS AT UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.—McCallagh foto.

BERKELEY, Dec. 2.—"Women engaged in athletics and gymnastics at the University of California mean business," declares Miss Maude Cleveland, assistant professor of physical education and director of the women's gymnasia at Hearst Hall, and Professor Cleveland objects earnestly to their activities being considered merely as play.

They are serious in their work, she declares, and their contests ought to be considered just as the men's contests are without any particular emphasis and without any curiosity about them because they are feminine. Professor Cleveland sees bright prospects for women's interclass and inter-collegiate athletics and wishes the general public would consider them in their true light.

Training is to begin immediately after the opening of the next semester in January for various women's athletic activities. Fencing, in which Miss Ruth Merrill and other upperclass students have shown much proficiency, will be diligently promoted. Basketball, tennis and swimming, when the weather will permit the use of the open-air pool at Hearst Hall, will also occupy their attention.

Professor Cleveland and those associated with her are anxious that the women's athletics shall prove of benefit to as large a number as possible and so are not laying undue emphasis upon the gaining of individual honors. They are attempting what has failed in the men's department, the participation of all students in some sort of game.

PEACE PERCHES ON BANNER OF CHIEF

The dove of peace perched upon the banner of Chief of Police W. F. Woods today, following his decision yesterday afternoon to obey the orders of Commissioner F. F. Jackson. It was intimated from the office of the commissioner that peace will continue to reign as long as Chief Woods remains in this frame of mind.

Woods capitulated yesterday afternoon after the account of his temporary rebellion had become public. Woods had held up the orders of Dr. Jackson just a little more than twenty-four hours when he learned that the information had been noised abroad. He hastened from the City Hall and sought Dr. Jackson in his private offices.

"I do not know how this could have leaked out," said Woods to Dr. Jackson. "Nobody but your secretary, who gave me the orders, and two others know that I had said I would not make the changes.

CALLS CHANGES RADICAL.

"You see, the changes were very radical, and I felt that you should have made the recommendations to me in person. I did not think I should carry them out merely coming through your secretary, Mr. Jones. I wanted to talk them over. The changes were sweeping."

Commissioner Jackson listened to a lengthy explanation of the affair. Finally there was nothing more to be said. Commissioner Jackson contributed a lengthy silence to the conference.

"What do you think had better be done?" queried Woods at last.

"I think the orders had better be carried out," was the dry comment of the commissioner.

"Then they shall be," said Chief Woods.

The orders were immediately issued by Chief Woods. They effect changes in the Chinatown squad. Ten transfers of officers were made by Woods, and all records were broken in making them effective. In some instances a man on duty in one district did a split watch to make the change at four o'clock, while others waited till the midnight change of detail.

ALL HARMONY, SAYS WOODS.

"All is harmony between Commissioner Jackson and me," Chief Woods declared today. "The best of feeling prevails."

"Persons in the City Hall may as well realize that the control of the police department is in this office," said Commissioner Jackson. "I issued my orders and they have been carried into effect. I knew they would be."

Complaints by Chief Woods that he chafed under "being made a figurehead" were not heard today. There was no talk of resignation. The chief contented himself with the statement that Commissioner Jackson had treated him in the most friendly manner possible.

"Do the changes made by you at the order of Commissioner Jackson meet with your approval?" Chief Woods was asked.

"I cannot discuss that question," said the chief.

The changes put into effect by Woods under Jackson's orders were as follows:

Patrolmen John Gannaw, O. J. Watson and W. I. Hodgkins, assigned to beats in the business district. J. K. Peterson, C. F. Nightingale and J. H. Keel, assigned to the Chinese district. Corporal E. W. Brock, transferred from the Central Station to the Northern Station. Corporal E. J. Conroy from the Northern to Central; Corporal P. Van Houtte from Melrose to the Central Station; Corporal A. B. Smith from the Central to Melrose.

WOUNDED OFFICER AGAIN AT FRONT

BERKELEY, Dec. 2. — Back in the trenches after recovering from his second wound received in battle has gone Captain Richard Stewart Dyer-Bennett, son-in-law of Professor Edward B. Clapp of the University of California. This word comes from Mrs. Dyer-Bennett, the former Miss Miriam Clapp, who is at Leicestershire, England, anxiously awaiting further news of her husband.

Captain Dyer-Bennett is with the Royal Leicestershire regiment at the French front, where he was ordered three months ago from England, after serving for some time in the drilling of territorials. A year ago he was promoted from a lieutenancy.

Shortly after being sent to the front he received a bayonet thrust in the shoulder and was invalided home for three weeks. He returned to the trenches only to be shot in the thigh and again he was sent back to England. Mrs. Dyer-Bennett's letters say he has quite recovered from his second injury and gone again into battle.

Three years ago Captain Dyer-Bennett and his bride visited her family in this city, soon after their marriage, which took place in England. As Miss Clapp she had been traveling abroad and met the army officer. Their engagement and wedding soon followed. Mrs. Dyer-Bennet is the sister of Mrs. John Cedric Snook, who was formerly Miss Edith Clapp.

Suspected of Looting 50 Telephone Boxes

Victor P. Jones, arrested last night for forcing open a telephone cash box in a booth in the Bacon building, is suspected by the police of being the man who has broken open fifty or more telephone booths in the bay cities during the past two months. When arrested, Jones had in his possession a bunch of keys that would permit him to force almost any ordinance telephone booth lock.

In forcing open the booth Jones disconnected the wires in such a way as to warn the central telephone operator that the telephone was being tampered with. The police were notified and Inspectors McSorley and Kyle ran from the City Hall to the Bacon building. They caught Jones as he was leaving the place.

Jones refused to make a statement. He will be held for investigation, and the San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley police departments will co-operate in an effort to ascertain whether he is the man who has been harassing the company for some time.

Chemical in Coal Starts Ship Fire?

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Acting upon suspicion that the fires which have started in coal bunkers of several steamships leaving here with munitions of war for the entente allies were caused by chemicals mixed with the coal, Federal and city detectives are working as coal trimmers in the bunkers of some of the steamships now loading here. One of the steamships whose coal supply was carefully inspected by detectives is the French liner Rochambeau, which caught fire on her last eastbound voyage and which leaves here Saturday for Bordeaux.

The investigators are said to have received information from an undisclosed source that a new chemical compound is being tested by persons seeking to prevent the movement of war munitions, and that coal impregnated with this compound will take fire spontaneously.

No Arrests Made in Traffic War

No evidence was gained by the men detailed by Chief of Police Woods to watch for violations by the street car company of the various city ordinances, and as a result no arrests have been made by the police of employes of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways. One jitney bus man has been arrested for a minor infraction of the law.

Chief of Police Woods sent a statement to W. R. Alberger, vice president and general manager of the transportation company that he would make no arrests on the basis of the affidavits filed with him by Alberger. Several days ago Alberger presented 399 affidavits of alleged infractions of the jitney bus ordinance by drivers of jitneys, and last evening he added 78, bringing the total to 477 affidavits.

Charges Married Man With Deceit

Charges with having promised to wed Mrs. H. E. Wood of San Francisco and with having at various times received from her various amounts of money totaling close to $5000, James W. Chambers, a promoter, was this morning brought before Judge Shortall. Chambers, who was arrested last night, says the money was given him for investment purposes. He denies the promise to wed, explaining that he has a wife and two children with whom he has been living at 1036 Forty-fifth street, Oakland. The specific charge in the case relates to $150, which Mrs. Woods says she gave Chambers when she considered they were engaged to be wed. The hearing has been set for December 8.

Nine-thirds in Concern Brings Arrest by U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—With the arrest this morning of Joseph Ferner, alias J. Rose, the operations of "The Busy Widow Company" have ceased, as far as San Francisco is concerned. Postoffice Inspector James O'Connoll took Ferner into custody on a charge of using the mails to defraud. It is claimed that Ferner, operating from the Hotel Belmont, advertised that he would sell a third interest in the concern for $300. The authorities allege that he has been attempting to sell as many as nine-thirds. The complainant against him is Edward Eggers, who declares that he parted with $160.

The final decree of divorce separating Levi from his first wife was granted about a month ago.

BERKELEY CHILD GENIUS 'LISPS IN NUMBERS'

Gaby Deslys Inspires Girl's Lyric Muse

HER OWN DRAWINGS ILLUSTRATE FIRST BOOK

BERKELEY, Dec. 2.—Like another Sappho, Berkeleyans have discovered a poetess in their midst. What is more remarkable about her than that, she is feminine—if that is remarkable at all nowadays when one speaks of accomplishments—is that she is just a little girl and that her cleverest work dates from the time she was [illegible] years of age.

[illegible] Boardman [illegible] of [illegible] real estate agency, she lives with her parents at [illegible] road. Quite modest and unassuming is this little miss, writing her verse for her own enjoyment and "just because she cannot help writing it." But those to whom it has been given to read her poems think them wonderful and those to whom she has given copies of a little red-bound volume are very proud indeed in its possession.

It was when she was just a little girl, not yet even in her teens, that [illegible] and her first [illegible] literary [illegible]. With a girl friend she published [illegible] to [illegible] a magazine which did not have so very many pages, but which interested all who received it. Between its covers the co-editors packed stories and jokes of their own writing, and interspersed between these were Miss Boardman's earlier bits of verse. They started the magazine remembering that there was no such word as "fail" in the bright lexicon of youth, but began soon to learn that there is much of business and not so much of literature in publications like theirs.

THE VENTURE LANGUISHES.

So they gave up its regular issuance. But Miss Boardman did not give up her writing of verse. There was every encouragement for her to go on with it. Men of letters who read her verse saw in it wonders for one so young, and brilliant promise of a future, and with such support the young poetess continued to favor her muse.

From grave to gay, from deep to slight and from solemn to passionate, runs the gamut of her verse. For instance, there is the rather lengthy poem in blank verse which bears an introduction startling for a girl of 14 in these words:

"The following poem is the supposed answer of one of the great artists of the seventeenth century, given [illegible] a [illegible] [illegible] another [illegible] artistic [illegible] of any other [illegible]."

Nevertheless, the little book [illegible] another poem [illegible] illustrating her versatility and written a full year earlier. It is entitled "A Love Song," and is dedicated to Gaby Deslys and reads as follows:

"Beautiful creature of my dreams,
On thy golden head there gleams
A glorious light; so soft, it seems
A radiance supernatural,
Beautiful angel Gabrielle!

"'Neath penciled brows thy lustrous eyes
Are full of laughing pained surprise
At thy misdeeds, thou wouldst disguise
From me who loves thee far too well,
Beautiful angel Gabrielle!

"Ah, I would kiss thy glowing lips,
Much as the butterfly that dips
Into the crimson rose, and sips
The nectar from that source divine,
Then falls, o'ercome by joy and wine.

"Though from thy charms my great love came,
Yet from those charms I must refrain.
Give me a lily from thy name,
And free me from thy clinging spell.......
Oh, lovely angel Gabrielle!"

In her vocabulary, in her light touch for light topics and in a deep appreciation for things of meaning, critics of the young poetess' work have found cause to wonder at her mental maturity. A brief poem of more philosophical import she has called "Illusion." It runs:

"And what is as fair, in this world of care,
Where we are bound slaves to reality,
As illusion? . . . . 'Tis sweet, with its gentle deceit,
And wraps our ideals in transcendency.

"How gladly we let it make us forget
That the gossamer dreams, which we love in our youth,
Are blind and unreal; for the poet's ideal
Is a vision unswept by the search-light of truth."

While many of Miss Boardman's poems are in blank verse, the majority of them are rhymed. Only here and there does the little lady give evidence of her tender years, and [illegible] a posed youthfulness, rather than by any immaturity of idea or expression. She writes, for instance, "A Thought."

"Now God forbid that when I am full grown,
And have a name and fame my very own,
That I shall scorn or scoff my youthful days
Or feel ashamed of former rustic ways.

"Nay, rather should I proudly thank and bless
The roads which led me to my happiness.
For is the day not fairer for its dawn,
And brighter, that the night has come and gone?"

The volume of her verse which Miss Boardman has issued for gift purposes alone and not sale, she has presented as a Christmas remembrance to many of her friends. It is even illustrated with some half dozen sketches in pen and ink, and these, too, are the work of the young lady herself.

U. C. Regents Sued Over Land Bequest

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Dec. 2.—Alleging that the regents of the University of California have failed to live up to requirements under which Horace Whitaker, a Dinuba rancher, deeded 400 acres of redwood timber land to the state institution just prior to his death, eleven of the Whitaker heirs have begun suit in the superior court at Visalia to recover title to the property. The land is estimated worth $250,000.

When the deed was executed it was conditioned, according to the complaint, upon the establishment of the property by the university of a state school of forestry and certain improvements in the tract.

These conditions have not been met, the heirs declare. Today they introduced letters from certain of the regents to show that when the deed was accepted the statement was made that they did not favor the establishment of the school as required.

Thin People Gained Weight Quickly

By Following This Simple Suggestion.

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe, fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Osgood Bros. drug stores and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.—Advertisement.

What Dyspeptics Should Eat

A Physician's Advice.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, about nine times out of ten, are due to hyperacidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you try a meal of any food or foods which you like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterward a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any excess acid which may be present or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. I know of nothing better than plain bisurated magnesia as a food corrective and antacid. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine that acts upon the stomach lining rather than the stomach contents. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Advertisement.

SQUEAKING KIDNEYS

Do not hesitate to promptly heed the warning your kidneys give you when they begin to lag in their work. When you feel those little "squeaky" pains in the "small of the back;" loss of appetite, highly colored urine; weariness you cannot account for—it means that your kidneys are not doing their work properly. The result may be fatal if neglected.

The remedy is a simple matter if you act promptly. Go to your druggist and get a box of genuine GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Haarlem Oil has been a standard remedy for all kidney and bladder troubles since 1696. It is imported direct from the ancient laboratories at Haarlem, Holland. Be sure you get the genuine GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. No substitute will give the proper result. Prices, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Your money positively refunded if you do not get prompt relief, and soon feel the old-time "ginger" of youth. Guaranteed and sold by the Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

SHIP BILL INCLUDES NAVAL AID

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Draft of a shipping bill, which is a measure [illegible] a revision of the one which failed of passage at the last session of Congress, [illegible] in the hands of the committee on merchant marine. It was prepared after conferences between Secretaries McAdoo and Redfield and would have Congress appropriate [illegible] for merchant ships that could be used as naval auxiliaries.

In this measure is a provision to create a federal board with jurisdiction over deep water traffic, a provision which means that if the bill becomes law maritime affairs will be under a control similar to that exercised by the interstate commerce commission over the railroads.

The shipping bill will be given precision by administration leaders in [illegible] introduced until President Wilson has given his approval.

With the contest in the Democratic caucus over the adoption of the rule for cloture of debate has developed one for president pro tempore of the Senate. Senator James P. Clarke of Arkansas, who seeks re-election, will be opposed by Senator Pomerene, who announced his candidacy last night. The announcement means a lively contest which will be settled tomorrow.

OPPOSITION EXPRESSED.

Antagonism to the ship purchase bill during the last session of Congress is held against Clarke by many of the Democrats, who have been quietly working in caucus since Monday to bolster up the opposition to the point of out and out contest. Efforts made for the sake of party harmony to silence this opposition have been of no avail.

The contest over the adoption of a rule for cloture of debate was renewed when the caucus convened today. The cloture rule would provide means for forcing measures to a vote whenever filibustering tactics became apparent.

In the measure, as agreed upon by the committee last night, is provision that whenever any senator arises and asserts the opinion that an attempt is being made to obstruct a measure and claims the right of the Senate to proceed to vote, the chair shall submit to the Senate, without debate, the question, "Is it the sense of the Senate that an attempt is being made to obstruct, hinder or delay a vote?"

If the question is decided upon in the affirmative the time for a vote will be fixed upon motion by any senator, but it must be at least two days after the making of such a motion. Democratic senators who oppose the cloture rule have said that it will be vigorously fought.

In the promise of Senator Charles S. Thomas, chairman of the senate committee on woman suffrage, to grant a hearing on the Susan B. Anthony amendment, December 15, the National American Woman Suffrage Association was given victory in a tilt with the Congressional Union for woman suffrage. The latter organization was denied a similar promise. Dr. Anna Shaw and other suffrage leaders have been invited to be guests of Speaker and Mrs. Clark in the gallery on opening day.

MRS. GALT TO HEAR MESSAGE.

The executive gallery and a large part of the reserve gallery will be occupied by guests of White House officials when President Wilson reads his message to Congress next Tuesday. Mrs. Norman Galt, the President's fiancee, will have a place of honor. It is probable that members of the cabinet will have places with the President's party and that seats will be provided for the Democratic national committee.

Senator Chilton of West Virginia was elected vice-chairman of the conference and Senator Lewis of Illinois was re-elected as party whip. On the steering commitee Senator Kern, the chairman, named Senators Martin, Owen, Chamberlain, Thomas, O'Gorman, Williams, James and Reed.

Senators Luke Lea of Tennessee, Hoke Smith of Georgia and Clarke of Arkansas retire from the committee.

PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR CAMPAIGN FUND GIVEN

Small Subscribers Volunteer to Finish Alameda County's $5000 Guarantee

"[illegible] from the big [illegible] give the little fellows a chance, too."

This is the [illegible] by letter and telephone, from hundreds of Alameda county citizens to the headquarters of the committee raising Oakland's share of the guarantee fund to aid in bringing the Democratic and Republican National Conventions to San Francisco.

"I want [illegible] the donation," wrote one man, "[illegible] if you will take one, five or [illegible] subscriptions, there are many citizens, not so wealthy as the big [illegible] who want to come in. We little fellows want to do our share, too."

"The donations of [illegible] citizens are just as welcome as those of the big fellows," said Chairman [illegible] Metcalf. "In fact, they are even more valuable, in that they show the spirit of the general public, and the desire of every man in the city, no matter how humble, to do his part."

"[illegible] have been [illegible] gratifying [illegible]. This is a [illegible] gratification to the committee."

GOAL IS NEAR.

With [illegible] to collect to make [illegible] the committee this [illegible] were [illegible] by Henry T. Scott, and [illegible] a fund of [illegible] at the beginning of the work this [illegible] and Edson F. Adams of the committee declared that several prospects have not been approached yet. W. W. Garthwaite is also declared to have a number of prospects in reserve. Tonight, according to statements of Chairman Metcalf, will probably finish the work.

The fact that the public is coming forward with [illegible] donations is declared by the committee to be one of the best signs of the success of the campaign. It shows, they say, that the residents of Oakland, to a man, stand ready to rally to the assistance of a sister city.

That the $[illegible] fund has been half collected was the news received by the committee today from San Francisco, when the National Convention Committee announced that the work would be continued a few days.

"The white chips on the table show good will and a desire to enter the game," said W. D. Fennimore yesterday afternoon, "but the ante must be raised if San Francisco is to win."

A movement was started yesterday to induce those who had subscribed for smaller amounts to raise their contributions to $1000. It was said this would mean speedy victory.

NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS.

M. A. Gunst, whose firm was down for $250, led off in this new feature of the campaign by raising his firm's contribution to $500 and making a personal subscription of $500, thus making a total of $1000.

Other subscribers [illegible] the intention of following suit after seeing the pace set by Gunst and Raphael Weil of the White House with $[illegible] subscriptions.

The understanding under which the pledges have been made is that the [illegible] be payable until one of the conventions is secured for San Francisco.

From information received by the committee it is believed that San Francisco can [illegible] at least [illegible] subscriptions if the $[illegible] is to be [illegible] more subscriptions [illegible] of $5000 are necessary [illegible] payable at once. The balance will become due when one of the conventions is won.

NEW NAMES APPEAR.

Among the new names on the list yesterday are Welch & Co. for $[illegible] and F. W. Kellogg for $[illegible].

Subscriptions for $[illegible] were sent in by the California Barrel Company, Moore-Watson Dry Goods Company, Nathan-Dohrmann Company and [illegible].

J. H. Harbour reported that the subscriptions from the mineral water firms to date amounted to $[illegible].

Several smaller subscriptions were received and tabulated, but the committee [illegible] will make the $[illegible], now practically signed, into the desired $[illegible]. Probably a meeting will be held Friday, at which the final work will be undertaken.

M'ENERNEY DENOUNCES UNMERGER

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. [illegible].—Garret W. McEnerney, [illegible] for the Southern Pacific Railroad, [illegible] argued before three circuit judges sitting as the United States [illegible] the separation of the Central Pacific Railway from the Southern Pacific.

"The Central Pacific line to Ogden," he said, "was opened in 1869, and was the only trans-continental line until the Southern Pacific Sunset line was opened in 1883. The construction of the Sunset line began in 1881. As fast as the sections of the Southern Pacific line were built, the Central Pacific operated them through to New Orleans and continued to operate them in connection with its own line until 1885, when the Southern Pacific Company, the Kentucky corporation, was formed by the managers of the Central and Southern Pacific companies, [illegible] lines.

"There was no change whatever in the operating management and the lines have been operated under ninety-nine year leases, executed five years before the Sherman anti-trust law was passed.

"It would seem that if the government wins in this case it will establish a precedent which will justify the breaking up of all the railroad systems of the country that have been built up by the acquisition of lines often competing and by lease, ownership of stock, etc., prior to the passage of the Sherman law.

"The traffic conditions now existing do not make any case of violation of the Sherman law. Since the Union Pacific suit was brought two new transcontinental lines have entered California, the Western Pacific and the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake. Besides, the Panama Canal has been opened and the testimony of all the witnesses [illegible] that these new competing routes make it utterly impossible for the Southern Pacific to monopolize or to control the competition which is now enforced by these independent roads as between the Ogden and El Paso routes."

Grant School Pupils to Stage Operetta

An operetta, entitled "The Isle of Chance," and written by Odis M. Carrington, is to be presented by the pupils of the Grant school tomorrow night in Plymouth Center. The children have been rehearsing for the play for several weeks, and judging from their perfection at rehearsals, the play will afford an evening of delightful entertainment. There are fourteen main characters in the operetta, with choruses of follies, spring spirits and shadows.

The principle role will be played by Lawrence Bollinger, taking the part of King Greed, who lives on the Isle of Chance with his slave to the Fishes. The operetta deals with passengers who are shipwrecked on the island and fall into the hands of King Greed.

Stratton Funeral Service Is Held

The funeral services of Frederick S. Stratton, former collector of the port of San Francisco, who [illegible] himself near Pleasanton Tuesday afternoon, was held at [illegible] o'clock this morning from the home of his brother, [illegible] Robert T. Stratton, 441 Fairmont avenue. The funeral was private and the remains cremated.

The inquest into Stratton's death was held at the [illegible] morgue yesterday in Pleasanton. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of "suicide while mentally deranged."

It is [illegible] that the Stratton estate will amount to what it is estimated, a $[illegible]. It will be divided equally between his three children, Mrs. Carlton Parker of Berkeley, Frederick S. Stratton Jr., and Anne Stratton, according to the will which was executed about ten years ago.

Besides stocks and bonds and a large holding in the Owl Drug Company, the property consists of twenty-five acres at Alamo, Contra Costa county, valued at $[illegible]; the old Stratton home at 1377 Harrison street, worth $15,000, and a ranch in the Klamath section of Oregon, $25,000.

"Do" Exposition in Three-Hour Hike.

Answering a challenge that the Exposition could not be "taken in" in one day a party of Oaklanders and members of the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. yesterday participated in a whirlwind round of the grounds during which they visited every building except those in the zone, in three hours. They made themselves conversant with the best routes to follow to ensure speed and visited all the palaces, live stock yards and state buildings, in turn not forgetting even the hospital and fire houses. The feat, they claim, is one which few of the Exposition visitors have performed. Of course the tour more resembles a walking contest than anything else, but the hikers proved in how short a time the huge exhibition could be covered. The party was headed by Robert L. Howrie and James B. Rodger.

VICTIMS OF ROBBERS.

Two men waited for Daniel R. Rogers, 1113 Eighty-sixth avenue, to leave his place of employment at a coal yard at First and Madison streets late last night and when he emerged from the gateway attacked and robbed him. One of the men was armed with a revolver. The other struck Rogers with his fists. They took $3.35 and ran away. W. B. Risley, 593 Eighteenth street, treasurer for the Steamfitters' Union, was robbed of $300 by a negress last night, according to a report made by him to the police.

EDNA GOODRICH.

The plot of the play has to do with a country girl who is tricked into a false marriage by a professional gambler and how she returns to her first love. The scenes, vivid in their realism, carry the audience from the little country village to the gambling halls of a great city and from there to the heart of the rugged mountains of the great Canadian Northwest. Miss Goodrich, as little Mae [illegible], the country girl, is given a splendid opportunity to display her excellent dramatic ability.

As the second feature which rounds out this exceptional program, which remains until Saturday, "Heights of Hazard," a Vitagraph blue ribbon feature from the pen of Cyrus Townsend Brady, author of the recent success, "The Man Who Couldn't Beat God," will be presented.

THE SHIPPING SCHEME.

The administration scheme for a government-owned merchant marine has been somewhat changed in form and is to be introduced in Congress by Representative Alexander, chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine. The original plan for a shipping corporation with the federal government as a fifty-one per cent stockholder which was rejected at the last session of Congress has been given a "made-over" dress. As the Wilson-Redfield-McAdoo project now stands it aims at the creation of a federal board with jurisdiction over deep-water traffic, similar to that now exercised by the Interstate Commerce Commission over the railroads, and the appropriation by Congress of $50,000,000 for the construction of merchant ships.

It is proposed that the government have built, with the fifty million dollars, vessels to be leased or sold to corporations, the entire stock of which will be offered for popular subscription. The contracts between the government and the operating corporations provide for the use of the vessels as naval auxiliaries in time of war.

The most striking feature of the revised shipownership bill is the vivid illustration it provides of the extent to which "True-Penny" McAdoo and his colleagues will go to create a slush fund and force a discredited, hair-brained measure upon the people regardless of any consequence other than political gain. The scheme is just as sordid and tainted now as it was when first introduced.

There has been little difficulty in the way of the public securing shipping company stock if it desired and in the future it may be taken as an absolute certainty that the people will prefer to trust their money to a private concern having its ships built under private and professional supervision.

The very thought of the government building with money secured by higher internal taxes merchant vessels for lease to a private corporation composed of "party faithful" is nauseating and repellent to every good citizen. The chicanery of it all is multiplied by the act of the administration in forcing private shipping concerns out of business that this dangerous and suspicious-looking project may be urged with greater force.

The proposal to subject trans-oceanic shipping to the same regulations now exercised over the railways will not appeal to any persons who thinks in terms reaching beyond the coast-lines. No one will commit himself to the absurd belief that the United States government can regulate rates for deep-sea traffic without the consent and joint action of foreign nations and foreign shipping concerns. Rate regulation of the ocean, which the big shipping nations and concerns might be willing to see, would force the small tramp steamer, the independent, completely out of business. It would mean forcing our shippers, producers and consumers to pay enormous profits to those foreign-owned ships able to operate much more cheaply than vessels flying the American flag. A rate might be established, based upon the cost of a certain steamer, and as a result that rate would be maintained. A tramp steamer might enter into competition, but would be unable, as is the case with the railways, to lower the rates. There would be one rate for the ocean; competition would be obsolutely destroyed.

Secretary McAdoo apparently has changed his mind about tacking his scheme on to the national defense measures, for Solicitor Thurman of the Department of Commerce says the bill aims at the creation of a merchant marine and not a naval reserve. It will be recalled that Mr. McAdoo urged in Indianapolis and in San Francisco that an efficient navy was impossible to create without a merchant-marine auxiliary and otherwise indicated that he was determined to force consideration of his project as a feature of national preparedness.

The proposal of Lord Derby to place a censorship on the House of Lords indicates that men of all classes are becoming afflicted with "nerves" on account of the war. When Edward George Villiers Stanley, G. C. V. O., K. C. V. O., C. B., P. C., J. P., D. L., 17th Earl of Derby, Baron Stanley of Preston, Hon. Colonel of the Sixth Battalion, Manchester Militia; Hon. Col. First Liverpool Volunteers, and Hon. Colonel Second V. B. L. N. Lancashires, gives the direct lie to John Wynford Phillips, P. C., Baron St. Davids and Lord Lieutenant of Pembrokes, the limit of self-containment has been reached. When Lord Derby, etc., says that Thomas Lister, P. C., J. P., Fourth Baron Ribblesdale, late Major in the Rifle Brigade, late Lord in Waiting, Late Master of Buckhounds, author of "The Queen's Hounds" and "Stag Hunting Recollections," is no better than a traitor, censorship obviously is imperative.

SEEING TROUBLE.

Senator John D. Works is looking far ahead and into queer corners for a reason to decline to be a candidate for re-election in November, 1916. He "could not ally himself with the Progressives" because he "has found reason to condemn their policies and practices in a political way." The Senator is something of a prophet again when he says that, "while the rank and file of the Republican party in California are progressive, the men likely to be in control could support him only as a matter of expediency," and that would entail surrender of his independence.

A direct primary law for the indorsement of candidates for United States Senator prevailed when Senator Works first went into office. The present law places the matter of the nomination of candidates completely in the hands of the people. It does not matter whether party organization and party leaders are unsuitable to the senatorial aspirant. A man who is chosen by the majority support of the people, by direct nomination, does not have to bother about who will control the Republican or any other party. He surrenders no portion of his independence by accepting partisan support. Party leaders have nothing of importance to say in the matter.

There may be good reasons for Senator Work's not desiring to venture again to contest the senatorship, but he has not given them in his published statement. To speak plainly, probably the real reasons why he will not again be a candidate are, first, that he has estranged himself from the Progressives, although he supported Governor Johnson in the last election, and, second, that he never has been of sufficient strength in the Republican party to draw therefrom enough support to elect him to office. The Senator's sincerity is above question, but his views on party importance and the "leaders'" influence in the primary are a bit wobbly. However, his statement that he has found reason to condemn the Progressives because of their practices and policies in a political way will be read with interest in some circles.

INFLUENCE OF THE MOVIES.

Recently The TRIBUNE published two letters, one from an Oakland citizen criticising the lack of proper censorship over moving picture shows and alleging that objectionable films are often permitted to be shown the public, and the other from an official of a moving picture corporation denying the charges and asserting that the greatest care is exercised in the selection of films. The truth of both these statements very largely depends upon the point of view. It has become apparent, however, that some sort of standardization of the movies is desirable.

Just what is good or bad in pictures of crime and sex has received considerable attention, resulting in much difference of opinion. Different people fix different values also for the "slapstick" variety of the movie. Today more than sixteen million people spend one million dollars every day in the twenty thousand motion picture shows in the United States. This is a mighty big percentage of our population and a sizable proportion of the money spent on daily entertainment. Any form of amusement or recreation indulged in by sixteen million people holds power for great good or evil influence. It is big business both on the side of the movie producer and theater operator and the patronizing public. The producers are facing a solemn responsibility. It may fairly be said that a majority of them realize their obligations in dealing with the imagination of these millions. All producers and operators should fully comprehend their responsibility in this respect.

On the other hand criticisms of moving picture shows should not be lightly made but should be based upon a thorough understanding and after all sides of the question involved have been duly considered. Censorship that aims merely to strike out coarseness and obscenity is not sufficient to eradicate all the evil that may be attached to the movie. The ideal result can be attained solely through the producers and operators rising to the full consciousness of the power they wield to influence the public mind and their decision to discard not only the formally and legally vicious but the insidiously destructive and deleterious. It is a good sign that movie producers are aiming at closer supervision of and show an earnest desire to improve the "tone" of films.

Carnegie at the age of eighty hopes to finish his century of life. Twenty years ago he started out to give away four hundred million dollars and has succeeded. To live twenty years longer ought to be no more difficult.

SIZE OF INCOME.

The College Point Herald of College Point, L. I., came out the other day in the shape of a handbill about 8x10 inches. It contained eleven tiny advertisements and one editorial, in which Editor C. Grand Pierre said.

"The total income of the Herald last week was $1.75. This week, excluding the payment of past due advertising bills, the total income of the paper was 25 cents. During the last three weeks the editor has called personally on seventy-nine subscribers whose subscriptions are from two to six months past due and collected $2.50.

"THE BOYS."

An inquiry reaches this office as to the origin of the term, "boys," referring to politicians. The cyclopedia not telling, and thus presenting a spot of [illegible] on the subject, the necessity is imposed of falling back on our old friend, English history. About two hundred years ago that fat, ugly, masterful country squire, Robert Walpole, became first minister of the crown in England, and through his dominating qualities, first prime minister. He could not tolerate opposition and he drove the abler Whigs out of the cabinet. These included some rising young politicians whom he contemptuously referred to as the "boys." The name stuck, and when these politicians grew strong [illegible] years after, the Pelham ministry included the "boys."—Kansas City Star.

JUNKETING IN THE NAME OF PEACE

The latest of Mr. Henry Ford's vagaries is the most remarkable of all. Announcing a peace mission to Europe, he charters a steamship and invites as his companions on this extraordinary errand a number of more or less conspicuous people, who presumably share his views that it is practicable to get all combatants out of the trenches by Christmas. If Mr. Ford were not a highly successful business man and one of the shrewdest advertisers alive, we would suspect that this latest posturing as a peace angel was a symptom of insanity.

Leaving the United States, as it must, without a vestige of official sanction, this remarkable expedition will arouse the wonder of belligerent Europe. Public quarrels are not settled by private intervention or mediation. Mr. Ford and his missionaries will obtain no access to governing authorities to whom they are not officially accredited. Their futile parading in capitals where they are not desired, and where they were not invited, will merely arouse curiosity as to the mental processes that led them to expect satisfactory results from such a crack-brained conception, with possibly unflattering reflections upon the common sense of Americans in general. The making of peace will of necessity be a profoundly solemn function, upon which personally conducted junkets can have no effect.

We are, however, promised one compensation for the ridicule that Mr. Ford's undertaking will surely arouse. Among the peace missionaries we note the name of Mr. William J. Bryan. If Mr. Ford shall succeed in removing him from this country for any considerable period, unloading him upon Europe, where the addition of one more burden would hardly be perceptible, we shall have some cause to be grateful.—Brooklyn Eagle.

PEACE OFFER BARES CLASH IN SCHOOLS

Swedish Training vs. German Gymnastics; Issue

Pacifist Hopes Benefit May Accrue From Dispute

Clash over the rival merits of the Swedish methods of training and the strenuous physical exercises of German instructors has split the physical education department of the Oakland public schools, for it has started a controversy between H. G. Pfund, head of the department, and Miss Signe Hagelthorn, his assistant, which has spread into other schools in the bay region. This was discovered last night by the board of education, when an offer was made by E. B. De Groot, president of the Pacific Coast Physical Education Association, to attempt to clear up the trouble. The board took De Groot's letter under advisement and ordered an immediate investigation. Drastic action is said to be contemplated.

The feud has been brewing, according to the teachers, for months. Miss Hagelthorn had been instructing a number of classes according to her methods when Pfund, disapproving of the system, ordered changes, putting in some of his own preferred system.

Miss Hagelthorn and other teachers disagreed with his views, to which he clung tenaciously, and as a result, from time to time, the breach between the head of his department and the teachers grew wider.

Christmas Call to Good Fellows

Several years ago the popular idea of a good fellow was a sport with half a jag and the desire to sing barber shop harmony.

Then in December, 1912, a man came to The Tribune office with a letter and a big idea. You may remember the letter. It was addressed to the Good Fellows of Oakland.

The message spread like a prairie fire. And since then the phrase "good fellow" has come to mean a soul-stirring quality to rival in nobility any word in the English language.

In response to the call issued by The Tribune thousand of little children have been made happy, and thousands of Oaklanders each Christmas have devoted a part of their holiday time to providing Christmas cheer in places where it does not find its way easily, and to filling stockings which would otherwise be empty.

YOU ARE SUMMONED.

The Tribune once again issues its summons to the Christmas Good Fellows of Oakland. Only a little over three weeks remain to organize this vast resource of kindliness. Hundreds of Oakland children are facing a cheerless Christmas, but if all the Good Fellows will report promptly for duty NOW, there'll be few homes where Christmas morning brings the doleful tidings that Santa Claus did not come.

Here's the spirit of the thing, as the first Good Fellow expressed it:

Neither you nor I get anything out of this except the feeling that you have saved some child from sorrow on Christmas morning. If that is not enough for you, then you have wasted time in reading this—it is not intended for you, but for the Good Fellows of Oakland.

Perhaps a twenty-five cent doll or a ten-cent tin toy wouldn't mean much to the children you know, but to the child who would find them in the otherwise empty stocking they mean much—the difference between utter disappointment and the joy that Santa Claus did not forget them. Here is where you and I get in. The charitable organizations attend to the bread and meat, the clothes, the necessaries; you and the rest of the Good Fellows furnish the toys, the nuts, the candies, the child's real Christmas.

The essence of the thing is not charity. It is kindly fellowship—brotherhood as between human beings placed here together for a time on this old planet. Let's take hold of it this year with more ginger even than at past Christmases. It will make the poor kids happy; it will give you Good Fellows just as much joy, maybe more.

DO IT YOURSELF.

The Tribune urges that the matter be made one of personal service. It wants no money from you Good Fellows. It appeals to you to go out yourself. It will supply you with the names, ages, and addresses of families of otherwise Christmasless children. You do the rest.

Don't send money, clothing or presents to The Tribune. Go and do it yourself!

A bureau has been opened in the editorial rooms of The Tribune, Eighth street, near Broadway. Call for names or write for them to the "Good Fellow," care Oakland Tribune. They will be furnished promptly.

Here is the form of application:

My name is .....
Address .....
Phone .....
Please send me the names and addresses of ..... children for whom I agree to provide Christmas cheer.

Note—If you desire particularly to care for children of certain ages, and either boys or girls, you may state your preference and wherever possible The TRIBUNE will conform with your wishes.

Closing Day For Exposition Throng Will Attend Exercises Presidents Will Offer a Toast

As the time draws near for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to close the interest in its beauty and grandeur grows and the people of California, to say nothing of those still coming from more distant places, are crowding the grounds and buildings of the Jewel City. With this interest and affectionate parting has come very definite plans regarding what will be preserved in the way of buildings, avenues and the Marina.

The greatest interest is manifest in the Closing Day, next Saturday, when the record crowd for the year will probably be in attendance. Excursions are to be run by all the railroads from the farthest points in California. An elaborate program for Closing Day has been prepared. In the program, which follows, there is to be a duplication at two separate exercises of the toast of President Wilson. One of these exercises will be held in the Court of the Universe and the other at the Exposition racetrack. They are identical in import, this being done so the Exposition visitors who do not find accommodation at one place will at the other. The program is:

NEW YEAR'S VAUDEVILLE ON STREET

Such Is Oakland Plan for Celebrating 1916 Advent

Other Open-Air Festivities Will Complete Program

Outdoor vaudeville before the City Hall, while the people of the East shiver in furs and snow-caps, will be one of the remarkable features of Oakland's New Year celebration, according to plans of the committees arranging the program. This novel feature, in addition to street dancing, a downtown carnival and several other sensational attractions, will make Oakland's farewell to 1915 one of the most elaborate celebrations ever held in the city.

Committees appointed by the Merchants' Exchange are already in session on the details of the program, and new committees from other civic bodies, lodges and public offices are formulating suggestions for the central committee's aid. Next Tuesday night, at the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange, organization will be completed.

The tentative program calls for several bands on the streets, red fire, a street carnival, dancing at important corners and probably an illuminated flight by a well-known aviator.

ART SMITH MAY FLY.

Art Smith, who has lived in Oakland for a large portion of the time he has flown at the fair, will be invited to make this flight.

A fire drill, in which Oakland's high power apparatus will clang down Broadway at breakneck speed, is one suggestion for the evening's festivities. Every building will be lighted as it was on Edison day, and the scintillator on the City Hall will also be at work.

The committee will begin collection of subscriptions for the celebration next week, and the city will be asked to aid financially.

"It is particularly appropriate," the committeemen announce, "that 1916, the first year during which we are to receive the benefits reaped by the Exposition, be properly celebrated."

Restaurants and cafes have already received dozens of reservations for New Year's eve, the Hotel Oakland and several other hotels having planned elaborate evening entertainments for the occasion. Several theaters are considering all-night performances to accommodate the late crowds.

At the Municipal Auditorium the great theatrical ball will take place, under the auspices of the Motion Picture Operators. President Ben Gavica of the organization is already busy with the affair. The ball will be one of the most lavishly appointed ever held in the new structure.

A number of theatrical stars will probably assist in the outdoor vaudeville before attending the big dance.

Arrangements are being made by railroads for special trains to out-of-town points, as thousands of visitors will be in Oakland for the affair. Special rates for Oakland's New Year celebration will be in force and every possible accommodation will be arranged for the visitors.

Co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club Theatrical Managers' Association and other organizations will be sought by the committee.

"Missiles" Make Profit for "Quarreling" Men

Jack Wilson, salvager, may be a good judge of salvage, but admits he is a poor judge of stevedores.

Yesterday he undertook to lighter a large amount of brass and other metal from San Francisco to Oakland. Instead of engaging regular stevedores for the loading he obtained a "pickup" crew.

Two of the men did not suit him and he "fired" them with half a day's pay each.

The men hung around and after a time made away with a quantity of the brass.

This they sold and with the proceeds bought liquor. Then they returned and began "bawling out" the men still working. The workers retaliated by throwing pieces of brass at their tormentors, being careful not to hit them.

After a little of this Wilson telephoned the police, "fired" the whole crowd and applied to the stevedores' union for a new crew.

The brass is still gone.

Knockout Blow Landed by Cupid

Couple Elope to San Rafael to Wed

Emulating figuratively the prowess of his well-known pugilistic cousin, Georges Carpentier of France, William Carpentier of New York championed Dan Cupid and landed a knock-out blow for the love god when he eloped with Miss Annabel McMillan, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Duncan C. McMillan, 5030 Thirty-second street. The young couple went off to San Rafael four weeks ago and were married without taking anyone into their confidence.

The eloping bride still retained her situation with the H. C. Capwell Company, thus completing the little deception, and it was only by accident that word of the elopement leaked out today.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpentier will go to New York for a honeymoon trip and will later make their home in a new house in Fourth avenue.

The bride, who is prominent in church and social circles, is one of three pretty sisters, the others being Mrs Daniel Elkins and Mrs. William Craig. They have all been married within little more than a year.

Carpentier is related to the famous French pugilist of that name, whom he closely resembles. He has come here from New York to take up business.

Millionaire Fatally Injured in Accident

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2. — D. R. Kilbourne, aged millionaire orange grower of Cucamonga, was injured probably fatally yesterday in a collision between his automobile and a motor truck on Los Angeles street between Seventh and Eighth streets.

Kilbourne, who is 78, was driving with his nephew, F. M. Cole of 1231 Oak street. A motor truck, driven by F. Kahler, 1220 East Twenty-third street, came out of an alley and struck the auto, hurling it on its side.

A passing auto took the aged victim to the receiving hospital, where Assistant Police Surgeon Johnson found he had sustained a fractured collarbone, a crushing injury to the chest, which had broken several ribs and a possible fracture of the skull, in addition to numerous cuts on the face, head and body. Kilbourne was later removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where it is admitted that his condition is serious.

Doom of Firetraps Sealed, Says Chief

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—The doom of the firetrap lodging houses, commonly designated as "flop houses," in the south of Market street district, is expected to be sealed at a special meeting of the Board of Health, Fire Commissioners, Chief Engineer Thomas R. Murphy, Chief of Police Augustus D. White and the members of the Grand Jury, scheduled for 5 o'clock tonight.

At that time the Board of Health and Fire Commission will consider a report submitted by the Grand Jury on those objectionable structures which the members consider a menace to public health and safety. It is not known what form of procedure the commissioners will decide upon, although it may be guessed that their action will be prompt and decisive.

LOST DIGITS AID POLICE IN PURSUIT

Missing Bridegroom May Be in Bay Region; Detectives Search

Took Bride's Money and Deserted Her, Charge; Warrants Out

Three missing fingers proved the clew that traced Robert B. Guilfoyle, missing bridegroom, from San Bernardino to the Oakland mole, and today police in Oakland and San Francisco are seeking the man, with warrants from San Bernardino charging that he fraudulently endorsed and appropriated a check for $1000 made out to his bride by her mother.

While the bride of two months was in a state of collapse following his disappearance Saturday night, detectives trailed the man to the Santa Fe train. At the Oakland mole today a porter remembered seeing a man, three fingers, and filling the missing man's description. He could not remember which way the man was traveling.

Guilfoyle, who was manager of a San Bernardino newspaper, and well known socially in the southern city, disappeared after placing a check, a $1000 wedding gift to his bride from her mother, to his own credit.

MARRIES SOCIETY GIRL.

Some two months ago he married Miss Hazel Cochran, the young daughter of Mrs. M. M. Cochran, a wealthy resident of San Bernardino. Mrs. Cochran gave her daughter a check for $1000 as a wedding present. The bride did not cash it immediately as to do so would have meant losing quarterly interest on it. She gave the check to her husband for safe keeping.

Instead of holding it, according to the detectives, he deposited it on October 29 and on Tuesday of last week, when he suggested to Mrs. Guilfoyle that she take a trip to San Diego, he checked out $500 and deposited it in another bank. He drew the $500 on Saturday and in addition, it is said, wrote a check for $150 for travelers' checks, and about $100 more in payment for articles generally used by travelers.

DID NOT MEET.

Guilfoyle had stated he was coming to San Diego to join Mrs. Guilfoyle and participate with her in a theater party. When he failed to meet her, she was astounded. On Sunday she returned to San Bernardino and when he failed to put in an appearance by Monday night, she collapsed with grief and worry.

J. H. Wilson, cashier of the San Bernardino County Savings Bank, today swore to the complaint against Guilfoyle. It was turned over to Sheriff J. F. McMinn and, in addition to private detectives, the county officers took up the trail.

For Pop's Christmas

The Father of His Family Is Grateful to Houts & Ramage

Present Dad with a "Good-One" for Christmas. Help him to enjoy in comfort his evenings at home.

A SMOKING JACKET for instance. Loose and free of linings—dressy—spares his business suits. Double-surfaced materials—fancy back showing on cuffs and lapels.

A LOUNGING ROBE—the quintessence of comfort. Worn over all his clothes or none, a robe makes father presentable. Warm—quick to don or doff. Fancy blanket and toweling materials.

Pa's wardrobe is rarely overstocked. He'll appreciate a lift along these lines:

NECKWEAR. Our $1 scarfs may cause you to be accused of extravagance. Let him think you paid $2.50 each for them—you should care. Higher and lower grades also.

SILK HOSIERY. Pop may make a big fuss about starting them, but you'll soon notice him wearing his trousers at high-water mark.

HATS. Spring one of the new Stetson shades on him. A dark night may greet its first trial, but he'll get his courage eventually.

FOWNES' GLOVES. Not for pocket wear, tell him. If he once wears them both at once, he will become rather proud of his hands.

OVERCOATS. Let the whole family chip in and buy father a Stein-Bloch Overcoat. His heart will be warmed even more than his body.

MERCHANDISE ORDERS

The sane way of insuring against giving what may be not liked, not needed, or perhaps duplicated.

$20 SUITS ARRIVE

Exceptional values, serviceable fabrics, appropriate weights, handsome shades.
Covetous glances, delighted wearers

If father reads above the good things in store for him, perhaps he may want to retaliate on somebody smaller than himself. Listen:

BOYS' BATHROBES. Identically like men's in fabrics, utility and comfort.

CHILDREN'S PLAY SUITS. Inexpensive costumes—Indian, police, etc.—to help out the make-believe games. Durable as overalls and serve the same purpose.

BOYS' NECKWEAR. The age at which a new tie fails to delight is unknown. The boy will be keen to learn how to tie a four-in-hand or a bow.

CHILDREN'S HATS. The self-consciousness of a child with a new hat bespeaks appreciation. Some fetching new models are now being shown.

JUVENILE FURNISHINGS. Gloves, shirts, underwear, hosiery, belts, sleeping garments, provide outlets for gifts that are practical and inexpensive.

BOYS' OVERCOATS. Just be sure there are good deep pockets for his hands—that's all the boy asks. We can equip him splendidly at $5 and up.

SCHOOLS WILL BE CAMPAIGN HALLS

Board of Education Grants Permission; Open to Both Sides.

offer, "that a serious controversy has arisen in the public schools concerning methods in physical culture work. We hope that there will come out of it a system that will be a credit to the city of Oakland, and will be glad to aid in the matter."

What side De Groot and his cohorts would take in the controversy is not known. Miss Maude Cleveland, vice-president of the organization, attended the same school in which Miss Hagelthorn learned her work. F. L. Kleeberger of the University of California is secretary of the organization.

"It's a wonder we would not hear of this inharmony from our own people rather than from outsiders," declared School Director Louis Aber. "I move we make an investigation."

This will be done next week, when action will be taken to end the trouble. The matter was placed before committees of the board on several occasions, but the committees, it was stated last night, hesitated to recommend the dismissal of either teacher.

VACATION TOMORROW.

Holiday will be granted all public schools tomorrow, when the children will have their last opportunity to visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The motion was made by Miss Annie Florence Brown, who also asked that the executive offices of the schools be closed. This latter clause was turned down after a vigorous protest by Director Edwards.

"We have too much work, and if we grant holidays it will look funny when we hire extra help," he declared.

"Every one else has holidays," said Miss Brown, "except the people in the school department. This is so small!"

That the school health inspection department had permitted children to attend the Jefferson school, despite the fact that they were suffering from a skin ailment that has spread, as a result, through the neighborhood, was the complaint of G. H. Vogt of 2120 Forty-fifth street. Vogt charged that when the disease broke out the health officers declared they would treat it at the school, but would not quarantine the children.

"As a result," he said, "all the children have it, and are bringing it home to the younger children, who are not at school and do not get free treatment. It is a disgraceful situation."

The matter was referred to the committee of the whole for investigation.

SCHOOL USE GRANTED.

Request that use of the Technical High School auditorium be granted the improvement clubs and other organizations campaigning for a new county hospital, and that they be permitted to announce their meetings in the schools, was made by Dr. H. E. Dean. After some discussion this was granted.

"We believe," said Dean, "that the interests of this proposed hospital and the schools are closely bound together. Your children now have health inspection, but often no means of getting treatment recommended for them. The new hospital will change that. We want to take the hospital away from the influence and association of the poorhouse and start it where it will do some good."

"In Cincinnati," said Superintendent A. C. Barker, "I went through the magnificent city hospital there, and know that it is a credit to the city and a great institution. We should support this."

"I don't know about this. They want to get another site," said Boyle. "The people in my district don't favor this. Is it understood that the opponents to this plan can have the same rights?"

"There will be no opponents," said Dean.

"If there are no opponents, what do you want a meeting for?" demanded Boyle. "Just bear in mind that the people against this business want to be heard, too!"

"That's not an issue before us," said Aber. "Quit talking and do business!"

A delegation from the Technical High School student body appeared before the board, asking permission to start their military classes at once. They were informed that this had been permitted, if they could find a drill sergeant to work without salary. An officer of the national guard, it was declared, had volunteered his services.

Civil service ratings of applicants for janitors' jobs who took the examination were reported by Business Manager Harry W. Bridgeman, who announced the eligible list as follows: George J. Crossley, W. C. Money, Philip J. Mockel, M. B. Allen, Frank E. Schetter, M. Donlin, Alec J. Zabel, D. Mitchell, George C. Deward, James G. Barron, J. H. Kleifter, Leslie E. Eakin, Gilbert Westoby, J. E. Stewart, A. H. West, H. J. Hodges, William Clyde McKinney and Mrs. Nellie Brown.

The pupils of the Grant school were given permission to present an operetta on the afternoon and evening of December 3 for the benefit of the school's "miscellaneous fund."

Miss Mary Carroll's leave of absence was extended from January 1 to June 30, 1916. James Higgins, who has been acting custodian at the Longfellow school, was assigned, subject to the pleasure of the board. Mrs. Mabel Farrington Gifford was permitted to open a free-speech defect clinic in the Oakland public schools for one month, it being understood that this is to be done entirely at her own expense.

Prof. J. B. Sears of Stanford University was allowed $10 for a lecture to the elementary school teachers on the subject of the spelling investigation conducted in the Oakland schools last year.

Three Smothered Under Automobile

California Man Dies in Odd Accident

GARY, Ind., Dec. 2.—Two men and a woman, one of the victims from Needles, Cal., were smothered to death in the mud under their automobile, which overturned and ground its occupants into the muck of the West Gary marsh last night. Gary police are searching in the vicinity of the accident, believing that another man may have met death in the mishap.

The fire department extricated the bodies, which have been identified as those of Mrs. Anna Adams of Hammonds, M. C. Goodrod of Chicago and Jack Thompson of Needles, Cal.

The wrecked automobile was discovered by a pedestrian. He investigated and saw one of the woman's feet sticking out of the mud.

COUNTY TO KEEP SAN DIEGO EXHIBIT

Continuance of Display for Year Authorized by Board.

Alameda county's exhibit at the San Diego Exposition will continue for another year with the southern fair. This was decided today by the Board of Supervisors, on recommendation of the Exposition Commission.

Closing of the Panama-Pacific Exposition display was ordered, attaches released and arrangements made to bring back the exhibits, some of which are to be sent to the county exhibit in Los Angeles.

The board today faced a puzzling dispute when L. C. Grasser, international vice-president, and Mark Antley, business agent of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, filed a demand that county bridge tenders be made members of their union.

There is a dispute, it was declared, over the jurisdiction. In former days the bridges were opened by steam, and the tenders were then steam engineers. When the bridges were electrified the tenders still kept their engineers' standing.

"At the present time," said Grasser, "some of the men belong to our organization and some to the steam men. One of our men was dismissed last week. We would ask at least that the men be not dismissed for belonging to our union."

"I did not know the man did not belong to your organization," said Kelly. "That had nothing to do with the matter."

The dismissal in question was that of L. H. Kendricks, a Foss appointee, replaced by a man appointed by Supervisor Heyer.

"It seems to me that the unions should settle this matter," said Murphy. "We will agree to keep our hands off and let them decide on what they want to do.

Fire Marshal I. W. Storey filed a demand that extinguishers and fire protection be installed in the warehouse on First street, where the county exhibits are being stored. The matter was referred to the district attorney.

ATTACHES RELEASED.

That Thomas Egan, watchman at the county exhibit in the Panama-Pacific Exposition, be temporarily retained until the exhibits are removed, and A. A. Denison, D. H. Bradley and other attaches of the exhibit be relieved from duty with the close of the exposition, was recommended by the exposition. This action was unanimously taken.

CONTINUE EXHIBIT.

The commission also urged that the county exhibit at the San Diego fair be perpetuated. There will be no cost save for electric power. It was urged that J. C. Hayes may handle both this and the county exhibit in Los Angeles as one office. Hayes, it was pointed out, could make week-end trips of inspection from Los Angeles to the San Diego fair. This, too, was adopted.

That the San Diego exhibit is in excellent state, and an attractive exhibit, but that repairs are needed in the Los Angeles exhibit, was reported by the Exposition commission. The repairs were authorized, they being of a minor character. Edwin Stearns filed this report.

Mrs. H. Thomas, superintendent nurse at the County Infirmary, was granted a two weeks' vacation. Miss E. Richmond will fill the place temporarily.

SAFETY FOR AMERICANS INSISTED ON

Winslow Holds Gen. Carranza Responsible for All Lives

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Villa forces in northern Mexico have been signally defeated by Carranza troops and a large number of Yaqui Indians have surrendered, according to reports to the State Department today from Guaymas.

TOPOLOBAMPO, Sinaloa, Dec. 2.—Adequate protection at once for American lives and property in Sinaloa was demanded today from General Munoz, the Carranza commander, by Admiral Cameron McRae Winslow, commanding the Pacific fleet, who arrived here today on his flagship, the United States cruiser San Diego. General Munoz gave assurances that such protection would be afforded.

Admiral Winslow, his staff and officers of an expeditionary force brought on the San Diego, visited Los Mochis immediately to inspect the town twice raided recently by Mayo Indians and Villa soldiers.

CARRANZA TROOPS LOOT.

They found American homes and property looted and destroyed, and confirmed previous reports of the destruction of property, the confiscation of 1300 mules, harness, wagons and equipment belonging to the United Sugar Companies and of various other depredations. It was confirmed that Carranza soldiers, returning to the place after the raids, participated in looting, according to best reports.

The home of the American consular agent, H. A. Lewis, a fine brick structure, was looted and completely burned. The consulate was entered forcibly, windows were smashed, papers ransacked and the hinge spindles on the consulate safe were broken off in an attempt to open it.

MANY HOMES ENTERED.

All houses were looted, it was found, and the residence of B. F. Johnston, president of the United Sugar Companies, were set on fire after it was looted. A Chinese servant hiding on the roof put out the fire. Among the looted and burned houses was that of J. P. Scally, an American citizen.

J. D. Dillingham, who was carried off by the raiding Indians November 20, escaped and returned today and took refuge on board the San Diego. He said he was required to act as chauffeur for the Indians but was well treated.

Carranza troops recently taken to Guaymas, Sonora, north of here, for the Sonora campaign are being returned to Manzanillo, Colima, because of threatened trouble in that state and Jalisco.

Anxiety Is Caused by Border Situation

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 2.—Carranza soldiers and residents of Agua Prieta, the Mexican fortified town opposite here, passed an anxious night in anticipation of an attack by the forces under General Jose Rodriguez, the Villa commander, which were said to number approximately 4000 infantry and cavalry.

General Alvaro Obregon, commander-in-chief of the Carranza forces, hurried here from Nogales last night. He arrived after midnight, but was too late for a conference with Major-General Frederick Funston, commanding the United States border troops, who waited until a late hour for the arrival of General Obregon.

No news has been received from the twenty Americans who left El Tigre, the American-owned mining camp in Sonora, for the border early yesterday. The party was headed by L. R. Budrow, general manager of the mining property there. While the belief generally entertained was that they were safe, nothing had been received to confirm this opinion.

News concerning John Cunningham, said to be a banker of Oklahoma City, and three others who, with Cunningham, left Fronteras Monday night for the La Osa mine, near Churunibabi, fifteen miles north of Nacozari, also was lacking. It was believed here, however, that they undoubtedly had been captured by forces of General Rodriguez.

Acid Thrower Tries to Burn Down House

A bottle of acid was used last night in an attempt to set fire to the home of G. Florin, 1252 Kirkham street, but only the paint of the front steps of the house was scorched. The bottle was hurled at the house by a passer-by, who made his escape immediately by running down the street and across some vacant property. The man was seen lurking about the place by neighbors, but no description of him was obtained.

The attempt to burn the place was made shortly after midnight. The matter was reported to the police, and Inspectors Kyle and Sevden investigated. No label was on the fragments of glass which had formed the bottle, and the nature of the acid explosive used has not been ascertained. The liquid was consumed in the flames. An analysis will be sought as to the ashes and charred wood left on the porch and steps, but it is doubtful whether this will bring to light any information that will serve as the basis for further investigation.

Orders Winnebago to Sail for U. S.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Richard F. Wagner, president of the American Trans-Atlantic Company, announced today that he had ordered the steamer Winnebago to leave Buenos Ayres for Stamford, Conn., without further delay. The Winnebago is one of the vessels listed by the British government as under suspicion of German ownership. She is loaded with quebracho wood.

Early last month Wagner appealed to Secretary of State Lansing to arrange with the British government to permit her passage to Stamford. It is understood that no such request was made by Lansing and that the State Department took the position that vessels flying the American flag would be protected in their rights without special arrangement for immunity.

CLAY'S OFFICE TO BE REORGANIZED

Reorganization of the office of City Auditor I. H. Clay to create a saving of $9780 a year will be effected by an ordinance introduced and passed to print by the city council today. The ordinance was presented at the request of Clay, who explained that the measure had his full approval.

The ordinance is based upon a survey of the civil service department. The reorganization effects an equilization of salaries, thus standardizing employment in the office. It also effects an important betterment in the practical elimination of the system of employing extra clerks each year at the rush season.

Commissioner W. J. Baccus today filed formal charges that Ross Morgan, an engineer, who has been acting in an unofficial capacity as adviser on street matters to the mayor and some of the commissioners, has caused a woman to have her property sold as a result of his advice to her that she need not pay certain street assessments. For representing the woman, and causing extra costs amounting to $49 to be levied against her, Morgan is alleged to have collected $3.

The commissioners rescinded a resolution of intention to improve Eighth avenue from East Eighth to East Tenth street. One of the largest owners among the protestants was the Western Pacific Railroad.

Shakeup in Office of Berkeley City Engineer

BERKELEY, Dec. 3.—A shakeup in the city hall in the engineer's department was prognosticated this morning when it became known that Harry Kelsey was slated for dismissal. It is understood that Thomas Bither, a son of B. J. Bither, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, is to be appointed to his position.

Kelsey is a holdover in the superintendent's office from a former administration. It is declared at the city hall that various differences have arisen between him and members of the city council. These have been over details of engineering work, and, it is said, do not reflect on Kelsey's conduct of his office. Bither, who is slated to succeed him, is now a sewer inspector on the San Pablo sewer. He has been in the employ of the city for several months. He is a graduate civil engineer.

It is expected the change will be made at the council meeting of December 14 or soon after.

Women's Clubs Heads to Attend Luncheon

Presidents of a number of women's clubs will be guests of honor tomorrow at the December luncheon to be held by the Oakland New Century Club at the settlement clubhouse in Peralta street. Mrs. Robert Watt will preside, and will call for a number of informal talks. NERVOUSNESS AND BAD DREAMS CAUSED BY UPSET STOMACH

Nightmare, Restlessness and Sweats Usually Caused by Indigestion—How to Overcome It.

Half of the nervousness in the world; all of the disturbing dreams and nightmares can usually be ended in a few weeks by a simple, inexpensive treatment.

Upset stomach is most always the cause of nervousness and bad dreams. Your food is lying in your stomach undigested and fermenting: it is forming poisonous gases which irritate the pneumogastric nerve that leads direct from the brain and ends in a network of tiny branches running through every part of the stomach.

It is also the irritation of this great pneumogastric nerve that almost invariably causes headaches. Many times people have severe headaches and know they are caused by the stomach, but do not know in what manner.

If you are nervous, have dreams or nightmares; do not sleep sound at night, get a box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and take one or two after or with meals. They relieve distressed stomach in five minutes, but it is their usefulness in building up the stomach and putting it into perfect condition that has made Mi-o-na known the world over as the greatest prescription for stomach miseries and indigestion ever written.

Put your stomach in fine shape with Mi-o-na and your nervousness and bad dreams will quickly vanish.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are guaranteed to end indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn, belching of gas, heaviness and other stomach disturbance or money back.

With a protecting guarantee like this behind your purchase there is no reason why any sufferer of stomach distress should not give Mi-o-na a fair trial. Get a box today and see how much more there is to life.

JIMMY FOX FAILS TO SOLVE JOHNNY ARROUSEY'S GUARD

Angeleno Too Fast and Clever for Former Star of Ring.

Old Father Time scored another victory last night when Johnny Arrousey, the Los Angeles featherweight crack, defeated Jimmy Fox, the one-time San Francisco flash in the main event bout of the West Oakland Club. With 500 enthusiastic fans looking on, the two feathers fought through four fairly hard rounds, but neither succeeded in doing much damage. As a boxing exhibition and scientific bout, the affair was easily the best staged here since the amateur game has been in vogue, but it failed to provide the excitement that accompanies hard hitting.

Fox was there in person last night, but that was all. He was but a shadow of his former self. He tried hard to solve Arrousey's marvelous defense, but failed. As early as the second round it became apparent that Fox's only chance against Arrousey was to wade in and slug with the Los Angeles boy. Jimmy tried this often, too, but Arrousey's experience and scientific knowledge of the game came into play here, and whenever Fox came in Johnny forced him into a clinch and locked him up.

JIMMY HAS GONE BACK.

That was all there was to Fox. His old-time ability to hit straight and find a landing place was all gone, his footwork was ragged and his once excellent range in timing punches was poor. We hate to say what Jimmy would have done to Arrousey last night if in his old-time form, for even with these disadvantages he managed to give Arrousey an interesting time and almost hold him even to the fourth round.

The two lads sparred through the first and second rounds, Arrousey scoring with his straight left repeatedly. Fox was the aggressor in the second and fought Arrousey to the ropes at times, but Johnny was too clever for him. The third round produced little excitement. Arrousey continued to score with a straight left to the face, while Fox would counter at times and reach his opponents with jolts to the body. The fourth was Arrousey's by a wide margin. He let himself out and danced around and rained lefts into Fox so fast that the latter thought he was in a boxing glove factory. All three judges ruled in favor of Arrousey.

KELSEY BREAKS HAND.

The special event between Harry Kelsey, the Oakland newsboy idol, and Battling Ortega, the L. A. sensation, was ended abruptly at the close of the second round when it was learned that Kelsey had suffered a severe fracture of the hand. Kelsey pounded on Ortega's head so hard in the first round when the latter covered up that the bone, just above the knuckle of the right hand, gave way. The fracture was an old one. Up to the injury, the bout was about even, with Kelsey having the first by a wide margain and Ortega leading throughout the second.

The real hammer and tongs affair of the evening was furnished by Jim Phillips, Lou Bernstein's protege, and Jack Burns, an Alameda slugger. Spurred on by some bitterness, which was caused in the third round through Burns' wrestling his opponent and attempting to work his elbow, head and all, the two went through the third and fourth rounds like Kilkenny cats. Phillips landed the greater number of clean punches and led in the first two rounds. Burns came back and made Phillips extend himself to the limit in the third and fourth, and but for his foul work in the infighting, would have secured a draw. Phillips was given the decision.

One of the prettiest knockouts witnessed in a long while ended the bout between Kid Oates and Spike Halliday in the middle of the first round. A right hook to the chin dropped Halliday to the mat in less than 1 minute and 30 seconds.

PRELIMINARIES ARE GOOD.

Joe Manese and Johnny Gomez treated the crowd to a hard four-round draw. The two mixed matters all the way and fought hard throughout. Young Mike Gibbons and Kid Ravies boxed a close four-round draw, while Joe Souza took the decision from Harry Eagles after an uninteresting affair, and Spider Webb, a newcomer from San Francisco, held Jimmy Magill to a draw although the judges ruled in favor of Magill. Magill scored a half slip-half knockdown the second round and that was all. Webb forced the going throughout the remaining rounds and had the West Oakland boy missing his wild swings. The bout was a good one.

SANTA CLARA PLANS CELEBRATION

SANTA CLARA UNIVERSITY, Dec. 2.—Art Smith, the famous aviator who has thrilled visitors to the Panama-Pacific Exposition is to crown his California exhibitions on Sunday, December 12, with an exhibition flight at the University of Santa Clara.

More than unusual importance is being attached to the coming flight of the young aviator at Santa Clara because that university is recognized the world over as the seat of aviation through the exploits of the late Professor John J. Montgomery, who first flew above the historic buildings of that ancient institution of learning nearly a quarter of a century ago.

Aside from the special attraction of Smith's flights there is to be a baseball game in which a number of the most noted stars of the diamond are to participate. Among these will be Harry Hooper, who was responsible for the Boston victory in the last world's series, "Home Run" Duffy Lewis, Harry Wolters and others.

During the progress of the game Art Smith will umpire and will also give several exhibitions of base running with his miniature automobile.

WHO SAYS THERE'S NO MONEY IN BASEBALL?

A statistical fiend has just arrived at the conclusion that the ball players—big and little—shook down the club owners for over $7,000,000 in salaries last season, and that it cost nearly $2,000,000 more to provide meals, sleeping accommodations, railroad fare, etc., for the diamond cavorters.

There are 200 players in each of the three big big leagues, each drawing an average salary of $3000, according to the figuring person. Anyone who multiplies 600 ball players by $3000 will discover that the total is $1,800,000. In the minors—all the minors under the protection of the national commission—there were 5500 players in 1915. The average salary for the gang was $1,000, which means that the bushers drew down $5,500,000 in salaries, which, added to $1,800,000 paid to the major leagues, brings the salary total to $7,300,000.

The "fiend" averaged around $20,000 a season in computing traveling expenses for the twenty-four clubs in the three big leagues. That means $480,000. He averaged $5000 for each of the 300 minor league clubs, which made the minors total $1,300,000 for traveling. Add the $480,000 major league cost to that, and the amount is approximately $2,000,000.

COAST CIRCUIT CAN OFFER BEST SALARY CONTRACTS

In a Position to Grab Cream of East's Playing Talent.

(By BILLY FITZ.)

Despite the Pacific Coast League's wholesale reduction in salaries, expenses and the player limit, this circuit is in a better position than ever to furnish the fans with near-major baseball. The reason is simple enough.

The International League is down to a $4000 salary limit, and the American Association has reduced to $3500. These are the only two Class AA organizations outside the Pacific Coast League. This circuit has a salary limit of $4500 and can offer the player one more month's employment than the others. In other words, next to the majors, the Pacific Coast League can offer a ball player the best inducements. That should mean that we can afford to have better ball players than the other two Class AA circuits.

The ball player who gets a monthly salary in the Coast League next season of $250 will be a lucky individual. There will be many who will be under the $200 mark. Compared with the four and five hundred dollar jobs that were floating around here a few years ago, the 1916 pay checks will look like punctured tires.

Those four players who were purchased by the Oaks from Milwaukee will have to show their worth in order to be retained, for Leavitt and Cook are determined not to be handed any more lemons. Barbeau, Berg, Doherty and Randall are all veterans. Three of them have been playing ball for a decade. Randall particularly having been a good player ten years ago. They may still be good for several years, especially with a change of scenery and climate. Manager Elliott will have a number of youngsters to fall back on if the veterans are not up to snuff.

Proof of the Oakland club's position with regard to the salary question is offered in the case of Jimmy Johnston. If a star like Jimmy is cut $500 and permitted to flop to the Feds unmolested, what must have happened to the contracts of the lesser lights?

RUGBY POSTLUDE WILL GIVE YANKS ANOTHER CHANCE

Return Game With the British Stars Set for Next Sunday.

A postlude of the rugby season of 1915 will be staged at Ewing Field next Sunday afternoon in the shape of a return game between the same British and American fifteens which put up such a sensational struggle last Saturday. The Yankees on that occasion lost to their British cousins by a single point, the game ending with the score 17 to 16.

Practically every critic who saw the game described it as the greatest exhibition of rugby ever given in America. Here are the respective line-ups:

All-American—Soper, O'Neill, O'Lane, Bloeser, Reem, Hickey, Guerin, Pettingill, forwards; Diaz, half; Walker, first five; Lachmund, second five; Fitzpatrick, center; Urban, Kirksey, wings; Montgomery, fullback.

All-British—Bates, Quill, Cashel, Braden, Pye, Walton, Flannigan, forwards; Wylie, wing forward; Erb, half; R. Templeton, first five; Carroll, second five; Davidson, center; Milburn, Hawkes, wings; D. Templeton, fullback.

Reserves: All-American—Milliken, Coschina, Armanil, Scholz, Hanley. All-British—Higgins, Moessener, Armitage, Card, Osborne.

MERCHANTS WIN.

San Leandro Merchants defeated the fast Telegraph team of San Francisco by the score of 8 to 6.

Murphy of the Merchants pitched fine ball.

The feature of the game was the hitting of Enos, Christensen and McNam.

"ABOVE ALL, NEVER GET CARELESS," SAYS HOPPE TO BILLIARD LOVERS

Perfect Control of Muscles in Wrist and Perfect Eye Necessary to Success in This Game

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. — "The person who wants to succeed in billiards must have perfect control of the muscles in the wrist, he must have a perfect eye for measuring distance and speed and, above all else, he never must get careless."

So says Willie Hoppe, the champion of all champions in the cue world—the most wonderful billiard player in the game today. Hoppe has been playing the game since he was a lad in knickerbockers. Five years ago he seemed to have reached absolute perfection. But every year since then he has gone beyond—has performed so brilliantly, so wonderfully that it seems that he is a miracle worker.

"Carelessness has kept out of the championship class many men who had wonderful natural skill with the cue," said Hoppe. "The greatest trouble with the average billiardist is that he grows careless with an easy shot before him, and frequently he falls down. Early in my career I saw the mistake that others made and I resolved that I always would exercise as much care in playing an easy shot as a hard one.

"Perfect control of all the wrist muscles, in my mind, is the main essential to billiard success. Unless this control is acquired, and acquired fully, one can not become a real billiardist, because, in critical moments of the game, the lack of control of even the minutest muscle will lose a shot for a man.

"Judgment of speed and distance really depends upon the muscular control. If a man has his muscles under control he can send a ball just as far and as fast as he wants. If he hasn't his speed and distance calculations often go awry."

Hoppe changes his stance after every shot. He never deviates from that rule, even though his succeeding shot is so simple that he could make it with his eyes closed. Hoppe's theory is that by changing stance it gives the muscles a chance to slip back into their original position so that when he calls upon them for the next shot they will answer readily and normally.

"In my opinion," said Hoppe, "the draw shot is the most valuable in a game of billiards. When a player has reached the point where he has control and a good draw shot he is on his way toward the championship class. A draw shot is the basis for all the variations of English."

Hoppe declared that playing for position is merely a matter of practice.

"The rule of billiards is simple," he said. "Keep the balls as closely together as possible so that it will be easy to make the next shot. Acquiring position consistently needs practice and care. But one who is patient and who goes at the thing wholeheartedly is sure to succeed."

Hoppe leaped into international fame 10 or 11 years ago when he went to France and surprised the entire billiard world by beating Vignaux, the wonderful Frenchman. Hoppe was a mere boy at the time, still in his teens, and the "wise ones" declared that his victory was a fluke.

But events since then have shown that it wasn't a fluke victory. They have shown that Hoppe is the greatest billiard player of this age and in the opinion of many, the greatest in the long history of the cue game.

BERKELEY HIGH TEAM LEAVES FOR STOCKTON FRIDAY

Red and Yellow Expected to Return to Old Game Next Season.

The Berkeley High School football team, Alameda county's representatives in the race for the state prep title, leave tomorrow night for Stockton, accompanied by Coaches Kenny Hayes and Charlie Austin, and Trainer W. L. Seawright. They meet the Stockton High School team Saturday afternoon in a game which will determine the state championship. Berkeley rooters will grab the Saturday morning train and be on hand to root the team on to victory.

Coach Hayes and Captain Davis are both confident of victory. The team's great showing against Palo Alto has stimulated interest at Berkeley and the college town will be a very sad place if the up country lads succeed in defeating the Red and Yellow. Hayes and Davis think they can't do it, however. One of the heaviest scrums that ever represented a prep school and a clever and fast revolving set of backs accounts for Kenny's optimism.

Every man from Millard Peterson, the star of the county in the front rank, to Captain George Davis at full is in good condition and ready to put up the fight of his life. The opinion at Berkeley is that the Red and Yellow will return to the old game next year and that to finish up their rugby regime with a state championship would be a very nifty deed.

The team that will represent Berkeley on Saturday is as follows: Front rank, Peterson, Graff; breaks, Mathews, Sisson; lock, Muldoon; rear rank, Brown, Fraga, wing forward, Nevin; half, Crowl; fives, McKechnie, Chalmers, center three, Montgomery; wings, Jessup, Fenton; full, Davis; subs, Tresseure, Orear, Jussen, Houston and [illegible].

WESTERN LEAGUE TO LENGTHEN SEASON

DENVER, Dec. 2. — Secretary Julius Eppstein of the Denver baseball club arrived home yesterday. Plans for getting together a strong team for Denver are under way and Prexy Jimmy McGill of the local club says he will spare no effort to land another fast team for Denver. The schedule next year will probably be 154 games instead of 140. The season will start two weeks earlier than usual.

WHAT'S THE USE?

I'd like to pick an all-star team,
It's always been a favored dream
Within my ivory brow,
But everybody's doing it,
Doing it,
Doing it,
Everybody's doing it
Now!

FRESHMAN RULE LIKELY TO SPLIT NORTHERN FIELD

Stanford and California Delegates Leave for Battle Ground.

Portland, Oregon, which boasts three record crops every year—apples, roses and boosters—is today preparing to welcome delegates to a Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference on athletics. As soon as Paul R. Wilson, commonly known at Stanford as "Skin," Earl Behrens, Stanford graduate manager, and John R. Stroud Jr., manager of California, make their presence known in the Oregon metropolis, the fur will commence to fly.

The freshmen rule, which caused so much trouble and annoyance to the readers of sport news last year, and which was the main reason for the split between California and Stanford, the subject of forming a Pacific Coast conference, and several other difficulties which have been bothering the athletic leaders of the coast colleges, are going to be discussed, debated, arbitrated and operated upon.

STANFORD WELL PREPARED.

Wilson, president of the Stanford student body and Behrens, the other Cardinal entry, are entering Portland with a long list of arguments stowed away in their top pieces. They are prepared to show why Stanford is going to stand by the freshman rule and allow the first year men to participate in varsity competition. Representatives of Whitman College and Gonzaga College of the Northwest are also going to argue for the "frosh."

As it takes two to cause a quarrel, there must be speakers who believe in just the opposite, and they must make as much noise and take the floor as often as their opponents. Graduate Manager Stroud of California and Arthur Younger, manager of Washington, will attend to this. Both are strong advocates of the barring of freshmen, so Messrs. Wilson, Behrens and the rest should anticipate a merry time.

Oregon University, Oregon Agricultural and Washington State will be "on the fence." However, Northwestern scribes are looking for each of the three institutions to go over to Stanford's side and allow the freshmen to compete, not because they like Stanford and think that the first year rule is a good one, but mainly because the University of Washington is against the freshmen. The rival universities in the Northwest love U. of W. so much that they would take a directly opposite stand to any move Washington would make. That's why the meeting should furnish all the more excitement.

WHAT WILL RESULT BE.

Although the students of each university are pulling for the stand which their own Alma Mater has taken, the general public doesn't care a continental how the issues are decided. All the sport followers of this section want is an annual Stanford-California game. If the decisions finally made are arranged so that the two institutions can come together again, all well and good, but if the Portland conference is going to arouse more bitterness and broaden the split, Messrs. Wilson, Stroud, Behrens and the rest better come right back home.

WHAT ELSE DID THEY EXPECT?

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. — The proposed twenty-round championship contest between Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, and Charlie White of Chicago, which a syndicate of Denver business men planned to stage next month, has been abandoned, it was announced today.

White had agreed to the terms of the Denver syndicate, but Welsh declined to accept the offer of $12,500 and other concessions as his share of the purse.

U. C. Opens Basketball Season Tonight Against 'Y' Champions

The Oakland Y. M. C. A. "Golds" will line up against the University of California five in the first big basketball game of the season tonight on the Oakland Y. M. C. A. court. The Oakland "Golds" will present the same line-up that defeated the championship Illinois Athletic Club team last January, with the exception that George Hjelte, last year's star center, has been shifted to forward, and his place in center will be taken care of by "Mush" Hjelte, who has shown to good advantage in all of the preliminary games. "Ed" Street will be seen at his old position at forward, while the guard positions will be held down by Laughland, Waddell and Guarine, who last year made a creditable showing. The University of California five has been strengthened by the addition of Barnes, last year's star Olympic Club player, who with "Warnie" Norton will hold down the forward positions. The center position will be taken by Spencer, while the guards will be cared for by House, Embury and Bowley, last year's star guards. The teams will line up as follows:

Oakland "Y"—Forwards, Street, Hjelte, Woods and Stevens; centers, M. Hjelte, H. Lewis, V. Brown, guards, Laughland, Waddell, Cayot and Guarine.

California—Forwards, Barnes, Norton; centers, Foster and Work[illegible]; guards, House, Embury and Bowley.

A good preliminary game will be provided when the Oakland "Y" 1[illegible]5-pound team lines up against the Olympic club 145-pounders. The game starts at 5 o'clock.

President Wilson Likes to "Hit That Little Old Ball"

President Woodrow Wilson is a golfer, just as was his predecessor in office. Former President William Howard Taft has gone on record many times with a list of excellent reasons for his following the bent of his desires, or the desires of his bent, when he spent much time on the golf links. President Wilson has never before, that we know of, made any particular explanation of his attitude toward golf. The popular impression is that he has been impelled, compelled and pushed into the game by his physician, Dr. Grayson. The President has destroyed this with a word. He plays golf because he "likes to hit that little old ball."

"The President and his physician, Dr. Grayson, played a round of golf yesterday," is as frequent a reiteration in the columns of the Washington, D. C., dailies as "Mrs. Smith poured at Mrs. Brown's." In consequence of which everybody sighs and concludes: "Good, old Doc. Grayson, keeping our President fit." And everybody has a mental picture of our emaciated chief executive, with flagging footsteps and furrowed brow, chasing the pill in his blind obedience to the official keeper of his health.

But, it's nothing like that, at all, at all. The real dope is at hand, and we are indebted to John B. Densmore, chief solicitor and acting secretary of the department of labor. Densmore was in Seattle last week, as chairman of a commission sitting on an appeal for the establishment of the Pacific Coast Chinese immigration station exclusively at this port. He got to farming on golf and among other things, said:

"I belong to the same golf club as President Wilson at Washington. Before leaving for the coast I called at the White House and after my official business had been disposed of the President and I got talking about golf. And, you should see his face light up when he [illegible] this subject.

"'Mr. Secretary,' he said, 'I love the game. Of course, Dr. Grayson receives credit for keeping me at it on the principle of its health-giving properties. That is the popular belief, I understand, that I am driven to take my regular course of golf at the direction of Dr. Grayson.

"'But, Mr. Secretary, I have no illusions about my golf. I need no urging to get out to the links. I like to hit that ball.'"

FOOTBALL FIGURES ARE HOPELESS

Those birds who try to figure out the relative strength of teams by comparative scores are due to finish their caroling in the booby hatch because the task is an almost impossible one.

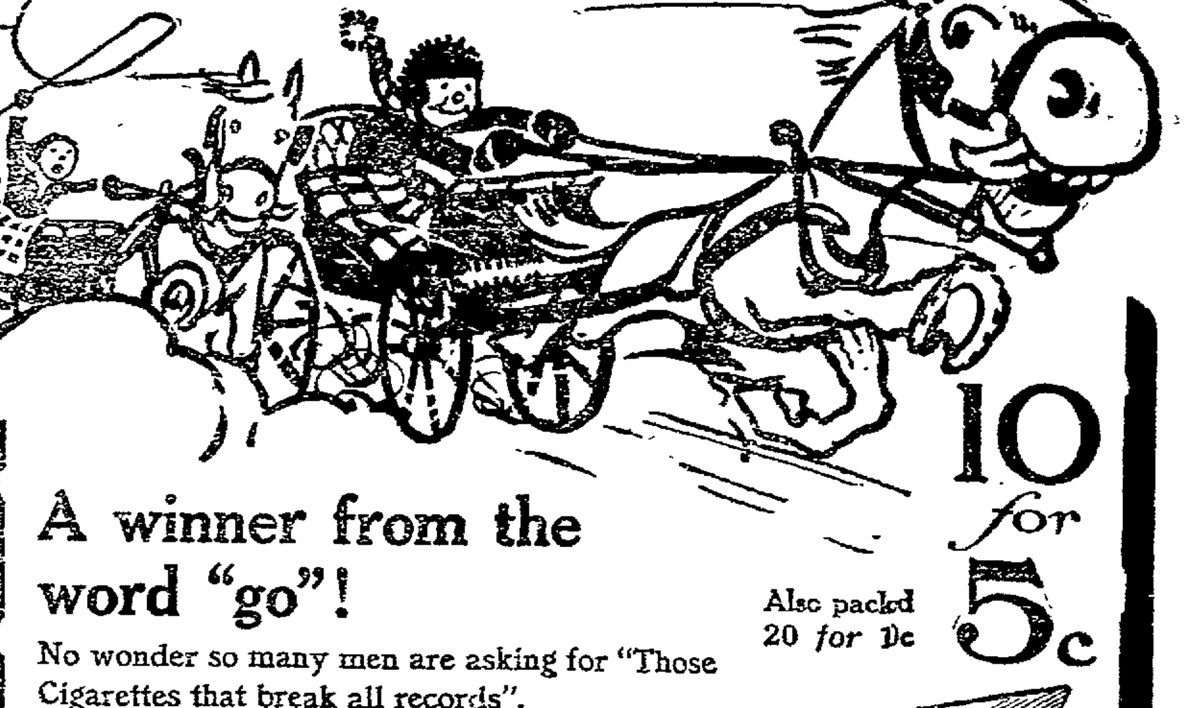

Here is an illustration:

The University of Washington beat the Oregon Aggies 29 to 0, the Oregon Aggies beat the Michigan Aggies 20 to 0 and Michigan Aggies whaled Michigan 24 to 0.

Now those who have tried to find out what Washington would do to Michigan if they met have discovered, by using comparative scores, that Washington would beat Michigan, 19,920 to 0.

This is Exhibit No. 2:

The University of Tennessee beat Cumberland 101 to 0, and Vanderbilt walloped Tennessee 35 to 0. Figgers being figgers, the conclusion is—if comparative scores count—that Vanderbilt ought to beat Cumberland 3535 to 0.

ALWAYS CONSULT THE BEST

It pays in the end. I will call your name, give you dates, facts and figures. If I fail to satisfy, not a penny will I charge. You to be the judge.

My $5 reading for 50c—50c.

Without knowing who or what you are, without asking you any questions, this strangely gifted man reads your entire past and future life with unerring accuracy. He tells your name, age, names of friends, enemies or rivals, tells whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true, whom and when you will marry; tells how to gain the love of any one; teaches you how to succeed in business, love, marriage, lawsuits and investments; in fact, everything.

I absolutely guarantee to make no charge if I fail to satisfy you in everything pertaining to your every-day affairs. An interview will convince you. Prof. Brown stands in a class by himself.

MINES INACTIVE, EXCEPT ROCHESTER

Stock Taken at Low Price Emerges, Following Liquidation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Except for a prompt reaction on the part of Rochester Mines, which advanced from 72 to 78 cents on opening sales, recovering much of the ground lost in yesterday's break, the mining sales market was inactive. Prices, however, held fairly firm. The decline in Rochester was explained today on receipt of a telegram stating that the mine had been closed down several days through the destruction by fire of the engine that hauls the ore to the mill. Liquidation of accounts brought out all the stock taken at lower prices.

Slackness of Season's End Already Pervades Market

Potatoes this week are the strongest feature of the vegetable market, and though carloads continue to pour in from Nevada, the indications are for higher prices before long. Otherwise, little occurred to change quotations, as sales were decidedly slack on account of the weather.

The top on Washington navels has settled down to $2.50 per box for the fanciest brand, owing to the lack of demand for oranges, and strawberries dragged at an unaltered figure until late in the morning. Several brands of apples, including Rhode Island Greenings, Red Pearmains and California Spitzenbergs, are now out of season, leaving red Oregon and northern varieties to rival with California Newtown Pippin for popularity.

Next Saturday the first car of Christmas cranberries from Cape Cod is looked for, and on the following Monday a second will roll into town. Another event of interest scheduled for the early part of next week is the arrival of the first direct shipment by steamer of coconuts—an arrival that will probably drop the price of this tropical fruit. Among today's consignments were a car of Mountain Barn apples from Hood River and a car of mixed grapefruit and oranges from Lemon Cove. The range on fancy grapefruit has declined 25 cents from Sunkyst with the result that the top is now $3.25 per box. Lady apples are also slightly cheaper at 85 cents to $1 for 20-pound boxes.

Vegetable events are few. Tomatoes could scarcely be sold, though Los Angeles stock in wrapped crates was offered as low as 75 cents, while poor grade bay specimens depreciated to 25 cents per lug. Cream squash, though holding at 65 to 75 cents per lug, is also dragging, and on the whole sales were few and far between. No more summer squash is to be had and the only egg-plant on the market is southern grown stock selling at 5 to 7½ cents per pound. Alvarado potatoes, Stockton bell peppers and chili peppers from the same region, have all cleaned up, and the street is arriving swiftly at its winter bareness of changing commodities. There were a few boxes of fancy rhubarb from San Leandro that brought $1.25 per box.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Indications of a large export business carried wheat prices today decidedly higher. Sharp falling off in receipts northwest counted also in favor of the bulls. Opening prices here, which ranged from a shade off to ⅝c up, with December at $1.05¼ to $1.06⅝, and May at $1.09 to $1.09⅝, were followed by material upturns all around.

The close was strong, 3 to 3½c net higher, with December at $1.09⅝ and May at $1.12¼.

Absence of offerings from the country gave a lift to the corn market. After opening ¼c to ⅜c higher, the market scored notable further gains.

The close was strong at 1¼c to 2½c net advance.

Oats partook of the strength of other cereals. Provisions were firm.

MARE ISLAND NOTES

MARE ISLAND, Dec. 2. — Chief Pay Clerk R. E. Ames, U. S. N., retired, was ordered detached Wednesday from duty as chief clerk in the general storekeeper's department at Mare Island. He will be relieved by Chief Pay Clerk S. A. Knowles, U. S. N., who has been ordered here from the battleship Utah.

The cruiser South Dakota, flagship of the Pacific reserve armada, will be placed in drydock here next Monday. The cruiser will probably depart December 8 for San Diego, where she is to anchor during the rest of the winter.

The cruiser Buffalo will leave Mare Island next Sunday for California City, where she will take on 1400 tons of fuel before departing for Mexican waters. It is quite likely that Commander M. St. E. Ellis, U. S. N., will be detached from the vessel before she sails from San Francisco and that Commander S. Kittelle, U. S. N., will take the ship south.

At Mare Island ten ships, not counting the three "F" submarines, are undergoing repairs. Several of the craft are to leave before the week is over for San Diego and the Mexican coast.

Naval Constructor H. M. Gleason, U. S. N., and Commander J. S. Graham, U. S. N., of Mare Island, have been ordered to Bremerton to act as member of a board of survey to convene on the cruiser Maryland this month.

To Have Perpetually Wavy, Curling Hair

Perpetually wavy, curling hair is now within the means of every woman to possess. All one need do is to get a few ounces of plain liquid silmerine at any drug store and apply a little of it occasionally. This is remarkably effective in producing a beautiful curliness and satiny gloss which bear no evidence of artificial making. It is neither sticky or greasy, and it will not streak, stain or injure hair or scalp in the least.

After one trial, the scorching, hair-destroying curling iron will never more be used. The best way to apply the silmerine is with a clean tooth brush, drawing this through the hair from root to tip. If this is done before retiring, a look into the mirror in the morning will afford a most agreeable surprise.—Advertisement.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

EDITORIAL

We are all primed and ready for Christmas.

Our Holiday stocks are here and upon display. Never before have we made greater preparations.

We expect that our business for this December will eclipse all past Christmas records.

Our assortment of French and Parisian Ivory, Hand Bags and Leather Goods, Kodaks and Umbrellas, Perfumes and Fountain Pens are said to be the most complete in Oakland.

Other articles, such as brushes, thermos bottles, smoking sets, electric lamps and lanterns, playing card paraphernalia, German silver novelties, vases, etc. is also being shown in splendid assortments.

And upon all this representative Christmas merchandise are attached typical Bowman cut rate prices so that you will not only find suitable gifts at our store but you'll be able to purchase them reasonably.

TWO MORE DAYS FOR EXPOSITION SNAP SHOTS.

Have you taken all of the snapshots you desire of the Exposition?

Remember you have only two days left.

Exposition books and professional photographs are all right but there's an element of interest in your own snapshots of the fair showing your own friends in the foreground that no other pictures can match.

If you are taking the family over tomorrow or Saturday be sure to take the Kodak also. Come in to the store and get plenty of films. We will take back all of the rolls you do not use.

SAFETY RAZORS WITH BLADE FOR 10c.

Remarkable Special Offer of Durham Duplex Razors.

The manufacturers of Durham Duplex Safety Razors are desirous of getting their razors into the hands of as many men as possible for the reason that the more razors there are in use the more Durham Duplex Blades will be sold.

Therefore, they have turned over to us one hundred complete razors, each containing one trial blade which razors we are to sell at ten cents each to the first hundred customers who desire them.

The Duplex Razor gets its name from the fact that it can be used as an old fashioned razor with open blade or as a safety razor by attaching the guard. They give the same shave as a $5.00 razor.

The extra blades, sell 6 for 39c, and having two cutting edges are equal to 12 ordinary blades. Furthermore they can be stropped the same as an ordinary razor and each blade will therefore last for months.

This is the most extraordinary offer in safety razors we have ever heard of. The supply is limited to one hundred.
